This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFATORY NOTES

THE following indications of the plan adopted in compiling 'Book-Auction Records' are given in the hope that they may be of service to subscribers, and, as will be seen, they refer more especially to that all-important section, the Index.

The governing thought in placing each entry has been—Under what heading is a bookseller most likely first to look? When an author's name is known, or the initials of an unknown author, no difficulty exists—although even then latitude is allowed, as in the case of Caton, which is invariably placed under the name of Caxton, who was only the translator and printer—but in the case of anonymous works some discretion is necessary. For instance, the New Collection of Poems will be found under Poems, but The Compleat Gamester appears under Compleat, as being an integral part of the title. The word Gamester represents, apparently only, a hypothetical individual, and not a subject, as in the case of Poems. We of course know that Gamester really represents various games and sports, but a searcher might look under either of those heads, whereas it is almost certain he will first look under Compleat.

In some cases it is extremely difficult to know under what heading an author's works should be entered, and custom has to be depended on rather than exactness. As an instance, the works of the author who is generally known as De Bry are placed by Brunet under Bry, while Lowndes places them under the former appellation. However, we never think of Bry as other than De Bry—just as we never think of De Quincey as 'Quincey'—so in each case those authors appear under their prefixes. As such classification is, however, arbitrary, the searcher should not fail to look under the name proper when the prefix fails.

A difficulty also arises respecting those pseudonyms which are more generally accepted as the names of the writers than the real names themselves. A case in point is George Eliot, whose works should, to be bibliographically correct, be entered either under her maiden name of Evans, or her married name of Cross. Nobody, however, would search under those heads, and her works are placed under Eliot.

The Appendix to Part I. (pp. 156-183) has not been indexed for reasons referred to on p. 156. The prices realised were only for the volumes as examples of binding. The section does not form an integral portion of the work, and it was added as an 'extra.' It is referred to in the Index under the headings of Bindings and Corfield.

Panoramas and scroll-engravings are included in B. A. R. because they are dealt in more largely by booksellers than by print-dealers.

It should be borne in mind that all magazines are sold not subject to return, and that the condition 'with all faults' is never appended to the descriptions.

The heads under which books appear in auction-catalogues are so various, (those heads being, naturally, often selected for the sake of attractiveness), that, when a work does not appear to be in the Index, some discretion is necessary as to the utility of further search under other heads. A case in point is the following extract:—

> America. Charters of Virginia, Maryland, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Massachusett's Bay, and Georgia, 1766.

This might be indexed under America or United States (neither of which appears on the title at all), or under Charters, or Virginia. It has been placed under Charters. Again, the Book of Common Prayer appears in catalogues under Book, Common, and Prayer, Lowndes selecting the last. But everybody thinks and speaks of it as the Book of Common Prayer, and it is accordingly indexed under Book.

As regards the important item Bibles, they are arranged: 1. English Editions, 2. Latin, 3. Other languages; and each section in the exact chronological order of publication, irrespective of versions, so that any edition may be found at a glance.

As regards Shakespeariana the method of its arrangement, (which is not the usual one), is indicated on p. 128.

In the case of such entries in the Index as follows:—Ackermann (R.) Microcosm of London, 1808, '09, '11. 1, 2, 185, &c., '09 and '11 of course represent the editions of 1809, 1811, following that of 1808.

The catalogue descriptions have been followed exactly, both as regards orthography and punctuation, except in the cases of obvious errors.

'The Loving Ballad of Lord Bateman.' This jeu d'esprit is variously attributed, by their respective admirers, to Dickens, to Thackeray, and to Cruikshank. As the last is the only name that attaches to the little volume beyond all possibility of cavil it appears under Cruikshank in

B. A. R. In fact, so far as Dickens is concerned any question of his authorship of the booklet was probably definitely set at rest by the letter of his son-in-law, Mr. Henry Burnett, in the Athenæum, Dec. 10, 1902.

It has not hitherto been customary to record the sale of books which realise less than £1, but as that plan excludes many works of the XVIth and XVIIth centuries of great interest no limit of price is fixed in the records of B. A. R.

In one of the auction-rooms the names of purchasers are not always obtainable. This, alone, explains their omission.

A few slight typographical and other errors have been discovered, and are tabulated in the list of Errata. I shall much appreciate my attention being directed to any errors not included in that list.

In addition to the matters above referred to various other matters are dealt with in the quarterly supplements, and need not be reiterated here. In furnishing those supplements, and the accompanying plates, I have been prompted partly by a desire to supply by their means various items of information which should be of interest or of practical value, and which could not be included in the compilation itself, and partly by a wish to import into an otherwise dry record something of that personal human element which plays so large a part in life. There only remains to be said that the first year of my own editorship of Book-Auction Records gives me reason to anticipate a long and congenial sphere of busy occupation.

ERRATA

PAGE

5. Annals of Sporting, 1882. Should be 1822.

23. Brown (Sir T.) Works, 1686. This should be on p. 24. The error occurred through the final e being omitted in the auction-catalogue.

24. For Tregiskis read Tregaskis.

26. Burney (F.) The Wanderer, 1833. The date of this was 1814. It was incorrectly printed in the auction-catalogue.

46. Dibdin (T. F.) Topographical Antiquities, read Typographical Antiquities.

49. Dorat (C. T.) Tables Nouvelles, read Dorat (C. J.) Fables Nouvelles.

53. Elogi, &c. (following Ellis); eliminate the preliminary ——

94. McCarthy (following McCall); eliminate the preliminary ——

110. Pepys (S.) Diary, 10 v., 1893. Hornstein £1 5s—should read, Hornstein £4 5s.

118. Ray's Society, should be Ray Society.

138. Studio; eliminate the preliminary ——

145. For Turbeville read Turberville.

374. Cowper (W.) 1st Edn. [following Cowper (W.) Iliad, &c.], should read, Cowper (W.) Poems, 1st Edn., &c.

498. Steevens. This should appear at the top of the page, preceding Steinmetz.

533. Boze (C. G. de) Royales, should be Royale.

534. Buffon. For 1700-86 read 1770-86.

535. Butler (Albon), should be Alban.

545. Froude (J. A.) Stories, should be Studies.

548. Hasler (J. L.) Cautiones, should be Cautiones.

Personalia

—:o:—

"There are two classes of boys and men; those who chatter at street-corners and in drinking-bars, and those who go swiftly and silently about their affairs. The latter may stumble, but they pick themselves up and go on again, regardless of the laughter of fools, and as if nothing had happened."

Which of course is the proverbial nod to a blind horse which is supposed to be as good as a wink, and is all that need be said at present.

And now let us have some fun, as in the days of yore.

A subscriber who cherishes Personalia, writes: "I am panting for the next part." This reminds me of a burlesque on Capt. Mayne Reid's style, in which a character says, "I am panting several pairs of pants," and the opening sentence of the book was, "The sun went down with all hands."

Some things are too good to be passed, even if they have appeared in print before. So, when I meet with exceptional bon mots they shall be enshrined in B.A.R. Here is one. It occurs in a Palais Royal farce. Two persons are on the stage. Suddenly one of them begins to rush off. "Where are you going to?" calls out his companion. "I haven't the vaguest notion," replies the other, "but I've got to be there by five o'clock." The second stood for a moment dumb-foundered. Then he exclaimed: "I must be there before him!" and disappeared as quickly

Here's another:—A butcher called upon a customer the other day with a polite request that he would be good enough, if it were convenient, to settle the little outstanding account which—and so forth. The customer said he was very sorry; very sorry, indeed; he didn't know that he had ever been so sorry for years, but the fact was that —— "Well," said the butcher, "I thought you'd be sorry somehow, but if you're sorrier than I am I'll give in."

And another:—A smartly-dressed young woman was rambling along a road when she met a small urchin lugging a bird's nest with eggs in it. She brought him up sharply with: "You are a wicked boy. How could you rob that nest? No doubt the poor mother is now grieving for the loss of her eggs." "Oh, no, she ain't!" said the boy, edging away, "she's on your hat."

And another:—Chicago is not regarded by the rest of America as a pleasant place of residence. This story of the Chicago man who died and found himself in another world will illustrate the common view. He was walking about, looking like a stranger, when a fellow-countryman noticed him, linked an arm, and said: "Well, sonny, how are you making out?" "Oh! it's bully," said the Chicago man. "Heaven is a durned sight better than Chicago." "Heaven!" exclaimed his companion, "This ain't Heaven!"

And yet another:—Once Mr. Prinsep and Rossetti were going somewhere by penny steamer, and, being early, Rossetti was stamping about on the landing stage, humming as usual, when he suddenly stopped before a shoeblack. "Boy," he cried, waving his stick, "shall the tyrant live for ever and the bloody priesthood reign?" The boy looked up at Rossetti with speechless, open-mouthed astonishment, but a young mechanic, who was lounging by, cried out: "What the devil's the use of asking him? You don't jolly well know yourself!" "Rossetti's roar of laughter at this answer was a thing to hear," said Mr. Prinsep.

Some chestnuts will stand roasting a second time, you see.

I possess what is, I should imagine, one of the most singular wills (or, rather, section of a will) in existence. It is on a sheet of foolscap watermarked 1813, and is the 29th Codicil to the Will of Thomas Nash, late of Bath. It bequeaths £50 per annum to the City of Bath "for the use, benefit, and enjoyment of the Sett of Ringers belonging to the Abbey Church, on condition of their Ringing on the whole Peal of Bells, with Clappers muffled, various solemn and doleful Changes, allowing proper intervals for rest and refreshment, from 8 o'clock in the Morning till 8 o'clock in the Evening, on the 14th day of May in every year, being the Anniversary of my Wedding Day, and also on the Anniversary of the Day of my Decease to Ring a Grand Bob Major and merry Mirthful Peals unmuffled during the same space of time, in joyful commemoration of my happy release from Domestic Tyranny and wretchedness . . . . and now that dear Divine Man (to use Mrs. Nash's own words), The Rev. Porson Buxton, of Norfolk, may resume his amatory Labours without enveloping himself in a Sedan Chair for fear of detection." He then directs the ringers to also perform on the very next day following his interment, and concludes, "Written with my own hand this 14th May, 1813. Thomas Nash.

"Since in this world I no relief can find
To a heartbroken and distracted mind,
Bereft of hope, shut out from every Friend,
Come, welcome death, and all my sorrows end."

One can't help feeling sorry for the writer of this human document, although it sounds grotesque, and almost comical. Perhaps Mr. Cleaver, the well-known Bath bookseller, can tell us whether the terms of the bequest are still complied with.

One of the most deplorable facts in connexion with the trade just now is the number of superior men who, by business changes, migration of population, or grinding competition are driven into the huge army of the unemployed. Here is one case:—A trained Bookseller, expert Stationer, practical Printer and Bookbinder, up-to-date Librarian, thoroughly well up in all and sundry allied branches, including the Fine Arts, and, withal, a good Penman and Accountant, tells me he would be glad of a permanent, temporary, or part-time responsible post—preferably in the Midlands, for family reasons. If any of my subscribers will write me, I will gladly put them in communication with him. I am assured by those who know him that in any position directly or indirectly associated with these branches his services would be invaluable.

An old, and much-respected member of the trade, Mr. John Marshall, died some months ago, aged 63. He was for many years with the late Mr. Waller, was next in business for himself, and finally had to again become an assistant. He was for about three years in my employment, and, while not possessing brilliant qualities, I found him reliable, amiable, and always doing his best. Illness and other circumstances prevented him from making any provision whatever for his widow, and I think there must be many who knew him in better days who, for his sake, would like to be of some service to the partner of his youth and old age. Anyhow, for the sake of human nature, I hope there are such, and that they will send me a subscription, if only of a shilling or two. I will head the list myself with 10s. 6d., and will publish the list of subscribers in the next No., and I will also see that the money is used to the best possible permanent advantage for Mrs. Marshall, and will tell you what has been done with it. I make no excuse for sending the hat round; subscribers do honour to themselves by lending a helping hand to deserving cases, and it is a privilege for capable men to succour those who fall by the wayside.

This is the sort of letter that is like a breath of strong, pure, fresh air after emergence from the fetid odours of a stew-house of chicanery. It was written by a littérateur whose name you all know well, and whose personality is familiar to many of you, and it reached me the day after the appearance of my letter in the Publishers' Circular, stating that B. A. R. would be continued. Nov. 13, 1904, Just "twigged" yours in the P.C. Delighted to see the same. I thought that I could gauge a MAN when I saw one. With best wishes. Yours heartily.

Who was the author of the following sentence? "If a man have the passionate love of a good, pure and sensible woman he may despise the 'slings and arrows of outrageous fortune.'" I am unable to trace its origin, and should much like to do so.

Here is a sign of the times in which we live! A country bookseller sends me a catalogue, on the wrapper of which is the following inscription:—"Book-Collectors' and Investors' Catalogues." So the gentle art of book-collecting is now reduced to a mere Stock-Exchange level! Autres temps autres mœurs with a vengeance!

And yet another! The old and honoured house of Sampson Low is in liquidation, while Grant Richards, "the well-known publisher," is in the Bankruptcy Court, with estimated net assets of £40,982 to meet liabilities of £53,134. Mr. Richards offered £27,000 cash, which the sapient creditors declined without thanks. By the time the estate-wreckers have had their pickings the creditors will be fortunate if they get the amount of Mr. Richards's offer less the final naught.

And again, Mitchell's Library, Ltd., and Bookshops Ltd. (which, I think, when it started two or three years ago, was going to create a revolution in bookselling), are in liquidation. The ideals of Bookshops Ltd., were admirable, but the times are out of joint for art and literature. You must be a manufacturer of guns if you want to make money, or a company promoter if you wish to break the law with impunity.

I know of a case of failure which illustrates the idiotic policy—(worthy only of Asses)—of casting an estate into the maw of bankruptcy. The debtor was an honourable man, whose exertions on behalf of his creditors and of his own good name, would have realised probably not less than 15s. in the £. But the wreckers were given a free hand, with the result that 3s. 6d. in the £ was realised. The expenses of realisation were £426, every penny of which went into the gutter instead of into the pockets of the creditors. This would have been bad enough, but far worse remains. Ignorance and mismanagement (I will say nothing about heartlessness) ran rampant in the realisation. The stock was lotted by a man who knew nothing of the business; and he put thirty-one-and-sixpenny articles in the same lots as twopenny-halfpenny ones, ticketed seven-and-sixpenny articles at 8d., and played Old Harry generally with the property. During the "selling off" process the shop was closed at uncertain intervals during the day—presumably for "refreshments"—and what else was done and left undone space alone forbids me to say, but it is all written down in the unfortunate debtor's mind, and will never be erased. When will creditors realise that "not failure, but low aim, is crime?" Not, I wot, until higher ideals of life are arrived at than those bred by sordid commercialism. The victim in question may at least be comforted by the following lines, written in November last by the Rev. Page Hoppe:—"There is great consolation in this: That happiness is very little dependent upon what we call success and money. I have known both sides, and I know that the strugglers get more out of life than the loungers, especially when we take the big broad view, and reckon in the splendid faith that this experiment of living is not all." And be at any rate has the sympathy of all right-feeling folk, while the wolves and sharks earn only contempt and hatred.

The subject reminds me of two notable cases of needless bankruptcy in the last century. One was that of William Pickering, the most cultured bookseller of his day, whose estate proved to be far more than merely solvent, but his mind was so absorbed in his hobby of publishing choice editions that his financial affairs fell into a state of confusion, from which an experienced accountant could have rescued them. The second case was that of the late Joseph Whitaker, whom I can remember being gibed at in a certain auction-room, for being "white-washed," by men who were unworthy to loose his shoe-latchet. But he was, nevertheless, a capable man, with ideas, and he lived to found the Bookseller, and that famous "Whitaker's Almanack," which we all have to have. I believe I am correct in stating that he paid every creditor in full, and the sum he died worth is written down in the books of Somerset House. So it by no means follows that a bankrupt is necessarily either a fool or a rogue. Circumstances may be too strong for him for a time, but the capable man generally wins through in the end. Apply, also, to some cases, the French proverb, "Il faut reculer pour mieux sauter."

When a sweep flings mud at you wait till it dries, and then brush it off and envelop him in the cloud. The mud is drying fast.

Last month a big London daily inserted a humble apology for a libel it had published, during the early part of the war, upon an officer who had had the purchasing of remounts, or something of the kind. This is so far satisfactory, but think of the mental torture to an honourable man whom it took five whole years to establish his integrity. Another case is in the Courts at the present moment.

It was General Lee, commanding the Confederate armies, who sent a message for his wife as follows:—"Tell her not to mind the reports she sees in the papers. They are made to inspire and occasion distrust. Those that know me will not believe them. Those that do not will not care for them. I laugh at them." The General's contempt for slander may be commended to the proprietors of those "Society" papers—veracious, mendacious, and otherwise—who set up in the Little Tin-God business, and thrive on the profits.

Things one wants to know: Why do even well-educated persons speak of Lord Bacon when no such a man ever lived? There was a Sir Francis Bacon, Lord Verulam, but none other. And why will they write of St. Petersburg, when there is not such a town on the globe? They, of course, mean Petersburg—literally the town of Peter—named after Peter the Great, who founded it, and not after St. Peter. The Saint of that name never got within a thousand miles of it, and the burly Muscovite was certainly never canonised. It is just as easy to say what we mean as to say something else.

Experiences are sometimes amusing; sometimes interesting. Here is one of mine. In 1900 a bazaar was held for the benefit of one of the war funds, and a certain lady, who is now a countess, sold some of the books of the Guild of Women-Binders. A morning or two later I arrived at business to find a large open envelope on the doormat, containing bank-notes and open postal orders for £37 10s., being the result of the sale. The lady in question had forgotten to fasten the envelope, yet the money had come through safely. But the most extraordinary part of the story is to come; for, after picking up the money, I went into the back room and found the door, leading into a thoroughfare, wide open, and it must have been open the whole night, and had been left so by the boy whose duty it was to bolt and lock it. Wasn't that an extraordinary concatenation of circumstances?

Here is something that should give us Westerns pause for thought. It was written by George Lynch, from Manchuria, in October, 1904:—"Primitive people and children are pretty much the same all the world over. Uncontaminated savages I have always found to be gentlemen. Not that these are savages, but primitive, yes. As one rests here this evening, under this centuries-old tree, amidst these fields that for generations past have been tilled into teeming harvest by the ancestors of these families at whose shrine yearly worship is offered, one is led to pause and think if there be not some great, solid compensation in this heritage of restfulness—self-contained, self-supplying, held together by a great continuous family love that makes the family the unit of the State, that knows not, and does not want to know, the life of slave-driven competition and unrest of the West." Our civilisation is wearing itself out with its hurried greed for wealth, whereas the Eastern peoples, who were the same ten thousand years ago as to-day, will be the same ten thousand years hence, while we shall inhabit the limbo of oblivion.

I want to thank those subscribers who, in a time of great trouble, showed their sympathy with me, and especially that Leeds bookseller whose generous confidence in my integrity I shall never forget. For fifteen months I had suffered from persistent insomnia, the result of brain-activity under conditions of close confinement, with inadequate assistance, and only five days' holiday in seven years of incessant work. At last, when either my sanity or my physical health was on the verge of complete collapse, my wife decided that her husband's life was more precious to her than all the businesses in the world, and she took certain steps which ensured peace of mind for me, rest, quietude, fresh air, and, above all, her hourly companionship; and now, my youth is renewed, and you—well, you have your Auction Records once more.

And now let me have more of your friendly letters. They help me more than you know.

FRANK KARSLAKE.

35 POND STREET, HAMPSTEAD, N.W.

The Original Bodleian copy of the "First Folio" of Shakespeare, now in the possession of W. G. Turbutt, Esq.

The binding here shown is plain dark brown leather with a small amount of plain blind tooling, done in Feb. 1624 at Oxford, and entirely in its original condition, except for wear and tear. The gash in the leather near top is due to removal of the old chain.

THE ORIGINAL BODLEIAN COPY OF THE FIRST FOLIO OF SHAKESPEARE

By the courtesy of Mr. Falconer Madan, of the Bodleian Library, Oxford, a photograph has been obtained of the copy of the First Folio Shakespeare described by him at length in the Athenæum, Feb. 25, 1905, and a plate made from the photograph forms the frontispiece to the present part. Both the photograph and the plate were made by the University Press. The Editor of the Athenæum has kindly given permission for the article to be reprinted; as follows:—

'By an agreement between Sir Thomas Bodley and the London Stationers' Company, made in 1611, the latter covenanted to present to the Bodleian one perfect copy of every book entered at Stationers' Hall, and the obligation is recorded to have been very well observed up to the Civil War. In accordance with this arrangement a copy of the First Folio of Shakespeare undoubtedly reached the library in sheets, and it was sent on February 17th, 1623-4, to be bound ("Deliured to William Wildgoose these bookes following to be bound 17th Feb., 1623.....6. William Shakespeare's comedies, histories, &c."), and it is marked as duly returned. The volume was then referenced as "S. 2. 17 Art.," and appears in a 1635 printed appendix to the library catalogue. "But," as Mr. Macray writes in his 'Annals of the Bodleian,'

"in the catalogue of 1674 we find only the third edition, that of 1664, which doubtless had been thought to be sufficient as well as best; upon its arrival therefore, from Stationers' Hall, the precious volume of 1623 was probably regarded as little more than waste paper. Nor was it until 1821, when Malone's collection was received, that a copy was again possessed by the library."

There can be no doubt that soon after 1664, when the Third Folio was published, the unfortunate First Folio was sold or turned out as a supposed "double" or as a superseded edition. There is no trace of a Second Folio in the library before Malone's copy.

The importance of this particular exemplar over all the 160 enumerated by Mr. Sidney Lee in the 'Census' which accompanied the Clarendon Press Facsimile issue in 1902 was that it was the only one which had never been in private hands until at least forty years after publication. It passed from the officials of Stationers' Hall to the Keeper of the Bodleian Library, John Rous. It was bound in Oxford for the library, and catalogued and chained in its proper place on the shelves. It was, therefore, a standard copy in a sense in which no other copy could be.

Most fortunately this identical copy has been discovered in the possession of Mr. W. G. Turbutt, of Ogston Hall, in Derbyshire, whose family have owned it for at least a century and a half. Even Mr. Lee's widely-cast nets failed to enmesh this particular book; but it was brought up to be examined at the Bodleian by Mr. G. M. R. Turbutt, of Magdalen College, a son of the owner, on January 23rd last, and it is now temporarily deposited in its ancient home. Within ten minutes of its arrival, Mr. Strickland Gibson, the one authority on Oxford bindings, recognised that the book was in an Oxford cover, and comparison with other books sent to be bound by Wildgoose on the same day as the Shakspeare showed beyond all doubt that the Bodleian copy was before him. Consecutive fragments of the same early printed book occur in the binding both of the Shakspeare and of one of the other books; and the details of the binding, even to the marks of the iron chain staple, and of the pressure of the tape strings, are identical.

Inasmuch as this copy may well be the first sent out from the publishers' house (passing in sheets to Stationers' Hall when the rest of the first batch of copies went to be bound), it might be fondly expected that we should find all the quires or sheets throughout the volume in a "first state." But the circumstances of book production preclude the possibility of this. In the course of printing the five or six hundred copies of each quire and arranging them for the binder there were several occasions when any original order of the sheets would be disturbed. To begin with, each sheet, according to Mr. Horace Hart ('Introduction to the Facsimile Edition,' 1902, p. xxiv), required four separate pulls, so that the whole five hundred copies of any sheet would pass four times under the platen and be as often (presumably) reversed in order. Again, the copies were hung up to dry in batches of not more than perhaps ten or twelve, and when taken down ready for use they would again break their order. And in the final process of stacking there is no likelihood that the five hundred sheets would be moved or stacked exactly as they lay before removal. Mr. Hart, who has kindly given information on this subject, is of opinion that no ordinary copy of a published work can be expected to exhibit a uniform series of "early states" or "late states" of the sheets.

which make it up. The importance of this con ideration, which sets limits to exact bibliography in respect of "early copies," is, perhaps, not generally recognized, but it fully accounts for the mixed characteristics of exemplars which have been subjected to minute examination.

What may fairly be claimed for the present copy is that it is one of the two or three which remain in original binding; that it was the copy formally deposited at Stationers' Hall as a standard copy; that it was then bound for, and for many years preserved in a public library; and that the body of the work has never been disturbed and is still almost complete.

It is a subject of congratulation, therefore, that this interesting volume has been brought to light, and, thanks to Mr. Gibson, identified. The facts were first publicly announced at the meeting of the Bibliographical Society on Monday last. The owner wishes that for the present any private communications on the subject may be addressed to Mr. F. Madan at the Bodleian Library. A description of the present condition of the volume is subjoined, the materials for which have been chiefly supplied by Mr. G. M. R. Turbutt.

It may be mentioned that subsequently to the publication of the 'Census,' Mr. Sidney Lee obtained information about the Turbutt copy; but the Bodleian connexion was then, of course, not known.

The Rev. W. D. Macray points out that an item in the Bodleian accounts for September, 1663—September, 1664 ("Received of Mr Ri: Davis [an Oxford bookseller] for superfluous Library Bookes sold by Order of the Curators—[£]024-00-00"), probably explains the disappearance of the book.

DESCRIPTION OF THE VOLUME.

(The Chatsworth copy, reproduced in facsimile in 1902, forms a convenient standard of comparison.)

Collation.

Prefatory matter (P.): eight leaves, wanting the leaf of verses which should face the title: see below.

Comedies (C.): A—Z, Aa—Bb^6, Cc^8.

Histories (H.): a—g^6, gg^8, h—v^6, x^4.

Tragedies (T.): two unsigned leaves, containing the beginning of 'Troilus and Cressida,' ¶, ¶¶^{6}, ¶¶¶^{1}, aa—ff^6, gg^2, gg—hh, kk—yy^6, zz^8.

This agrees with the Chatsworth copy, except that the latter has the prefatory leaf of verses.

Text.

The following are examples of differences from the Chatsworth copy:—

C. (i.e., Comedies), sign. V 1 (p. 229). The signature is misprinted Vv. (earlier).

C., sign. X5^v (252). "Actus Quintus": there is a space between u and i (earlier).

H., sign. b3 (17). w in the catchword has dropped down too low. So with d in the catchword of T., sign. x5.

H., sign. m3 (121). The signature is misprinted 13 (earlier).

H., sign. t6 (212). The upper and lower lines are bowed in the Chatsworth copy, but straight in this copy.

T., sign. ff5^v (70). The O of the pagination is inverted, and so appears too high (earlier).

T., sign. qq5^v (290). The catchword is "Gainst," and is interesting as showing the second of three stages:—

1. Catchword Gainst; p. 291 begins Gainst.
2. Catchword Gainst; p. 291 begins But.
3. Catchword But; p. 291 begins But.

The Chatsworth copy shows the third stage, this copy the second.

T., sign. ss3 (309). The stage direction is "H edia," not, as the Chatsworth copy, "He dis," i.e., dies (earlier).

T., sign. vv3. The first line is

I have heard too much: and your words and not, as in the Chatsworth copy (by an explicable error).

And hell gnaw his bones.

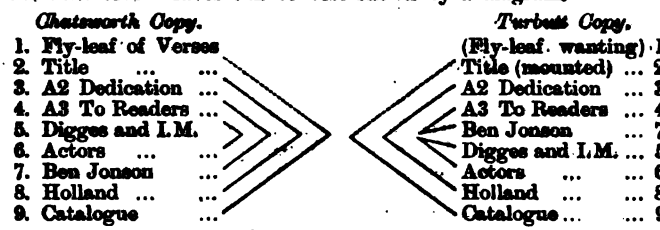
These variations will serve to distinguish the present copy from others, but in all the other points mentioned in Mr. Lee's 'Introduction' and 'Census' it agrees closely with the Chatsworth Shakspeare, with the single exception that "Foredo" ('Introd.,'

p. xxxii=T. p. 278, col. 2, l. 3) is not corrected to "For do," and there is reason to think that this particular correction is a mistake, as it is not found in the Chatsworth copy, which is supposed to be corrected.

Condition and Binding.

The Turbutt Shakspeare is a very large copy, measuring 13½ × 8¼ in.; and many leaves have rough edges at top or bottom. It is in parts much worn from use, and in many places the leaves are damaged and in delicate condition; but, with the exception of the fly-leaf of verses, every leaf is there. It is a curious and interesting point that the comparative use made by Bodleian readers of each play between 1624 and 1664 can be estimated from the signs of wear and tear. The most worn are 'Romeo and Juliet' and 'Julius Cæsar'; next to them come 'Macbeth' and '1 Henry IV.'; and the others which show clear marks of special perusal are 'The Merry Wives of Windsor,' 'Hamlet,' and 'The Tempest.' The histories were least read.

The Prefatory Leaves.—The fly-leaf of verses is entirely wanting. The title-page is badly damaged, the whole of the imprint having been cut away and the dimidiated title mounted on later paper. The portrait is perfect and in good condition. The order of the next seven leaves can be best shown by a diagram.



The importance of the Turbutt copy is that, being in original binding, the accuracy of the above lines (not dots) is certain, that is to say, leaves 3 and 8, 4 and 7, 5 and 6, are each one piece of paper. The Chatsworth order is the easy and natural one, requiring only one thread to hold the entire sheet together, and the order of leaves is practically the same as in the Second Folio, which was reprinted from the First. But if the order be right, why should the Oxford binder take the trouble to use an arrangement which gave him more trouble and required two threads, unless there were good reason? The point cannot be enlarged on here, but some of Mr. Lee's views of the history of the prefatory matter on pp. xxiv-xxv of his 'Introduction' may be modified in view of the testimony adduced above.

The binding is of dark brown leather, of a plain kind with a small amount of plain blind tooling on the sides and back, and is entirely unrepaired. The covers are damaged, but the sewing is still sound. The original first blank fly-leaf, which probably bore a Bodleian shelf-mark, has gone, and several leaves have been strengthened by the use of coarse blank paper, but except for a few blank margins and a very few cases where a letter or two of the text have been worn off, the text of the plays is entirely preserved.'

NOTES, BIBLIOGRAPHICAL AND OTHER.

Personalia is crowded-out by the ever-growing mass of matter requiring notice. Some have wondered why it was ever printed. Well, it was merely a bit of personal indulgence; a relief from the strain of strenuous labour; and as it was 'thrown in,' so to speak, subscribers who did not care for it could recall the proverb about not looking a gift-horse in the mouth. Besides, the W.P.B. is always handy for rubbish. Personalia has brought me some very warm friendships, and more especially among men of years, education, and wide experience of life. So I part from it reluctantly, as from a friend, or as from a part of my own life.

This Part would have appeared on May 1, as promised, but for the religious observances at Easter to which all printers are so devotedly attached.

Part 2 contains 4247 records, being 10 less than in Part 1. The reason it is smaller than Part 1 is because compression has been still further possible, as the result of experience, without sacrifice of utility, but rather the reverse. In short—simplicity combined with thoroughness. Only one bookseller wishes B. A. R. to be issued monthly, so it will remain a quarterly publication.

The spirit of enterprise which instigates the giving for nothing of something that is worth paying for is usually so conspicuous by its absence that I have special pleasure in drawing attention to The Periodical, a magazine of Literature, which Mr. Henry Frowde sends gratis and post-free to anybody who wishes to receive it. Every bookseller and every literary man will want it after seeing one No. Applications should be made to The Editor, of the Periodical, Oxford University Press Warehouse, Amen Corner, London, E.C.

Mr. Edwin Thomas Truman, M.R.C.S., died on April 8, 1905, aged 86. Booksellers will remember him as the foremost collector of Cruikshankiana of the nineteenth century.

The appeal for subscriptions for the widow of the late Mr. John Marshall met with only one response, viz., 5s. from Mr. Halewood, of Preston. Mrs. Marshall is very poor, and before handing her my own and Mr. Halewood's subscription I will keep the matter open for another month. If 500 booksellers were to give only 1s. each it would be a little fortune for her.

Catalogues worth having:—

Mr. Joseph Milligan, 29 Welton Mount, Leeds, sends a catalogue (No. 23), which contains much Americana, including many 18th century books.

The catalogue of Mr. Wm. Smith, 109 London Street, Reading, contains 1398 lots, including 174 of Americana and 54 on Australasia.

Mr. J. T. Goldie's catalogue, No. 27 (37 Cliff Road, Leeds), contains 368 interesting lots, 'all in good condition and guaranteed perfect,'—a condition essential to confidence between buyer and seller. A very artistic wood-block, by T. H. Simpson, decorates the cover.

The best English catalogue that has reached me this quarter is that of Messrs. J. & J. Leighton, 40 Brewer Street, W. It is merely section Si—T of a general catalogue, appearing in parts, but it contains 719 works of the first importance, and is illustrated with 136 reproductions of historic and other bindings, title-pages, woodblocks, printers' marks, &c. Among the books are examples of the presses of Pynson, Jenson, Petit, and the Aldines. An illuminated English MS. of the XVth century, bound at Oxford about 1480, is perhaps the most interesting item. Such catalogues possess permanent bibliographical value, since the illustrations are generally not obtainable elsewhere. As Messrs. Leighton observe, the masterpieces of the early printers are being rapidly absorbed into public and other libraries that cannot be dispersed.

The admirable catalogue (No. XXXIV.) issued by Herr J. Halle, Ottostrasse 3a, Munich, is also an object-lesson for its reproductions, (7 plates and 7 woodcuts), from MSS. and early-printed books, with notes in English and French, as well as German, and a cover in the three languages. Booksellers, of all persons in the world, should be linguists, and young beginners should remember that almost any language, excepting Russian and Chinese, can be learnt in a twelvemonth by one hour's daily study. Cassell's Lessons in French (1s. 6d.) is the best of all methods, because the simplest, and by buying the Key no learner needs a master, except for accent. Mr. Halle's catalogue contains 481 articles, of early-woodcut books, incunabula, topography, costumes, genealogy, pageants, &c.

The third folio Shakespeare sold at Bangor on Feb. 14 is chronicled in this Part.

It is of course understood that the spelling in B. A. R. is always that of the original titles, and that apparent errors are not misprints. The same applies to accents in foreign languages, of which the type does not invariably permit; and, also, to old and erroneous punctuation.

The final collection of books bound, for sale, by members of the Guild of Women-Binders, will be dispersed at Sotheby's at an early date. I can recommend attention being given to the sale, as no more such bindings will be produced, except to order. Some very fine examples are included.

'SOTHEBY'S'

(REPRINTED, BY PERMISSION, FROM THE Graphic, MAY 26, 1888)

'SOTHEBY'S'

'Sotheby's!' What a host of recollections the name evokes! I look back to the year 1867, and am in my boyhood again, and see in the rostrum a courteous, pleasant-voiced figure, with silver-streaked hair. It is Mr. John Wilkinson, the then head of the famous firm, who some years ago passed away. Beside him, in the head-clerk's desk, sits Mr. Pascoe, his nephew, whose sartorial embellishments were the despair and envy of many a younger member of the only trade which has been dignified by the sub-title of profession. John Bohn (brother of the great Henry G. Bohn, originator of Bohn's Libraries), cataloguer-in-chief to the firm, flits in and out of the room occasionally during sales, and upholds any questioned statement in his catalogues. He, too, is long since gathered to his fathers. Lilly was there, too; one of the old school; in antique costume; dealer in early English first editions when they were but a tithe of their present value; and Boone (whose business was in 1873 merged into that of F. S. Ellis), and other old-time giants of the bibliopolic race whose names are crowded out of my memory by the stirring movement of a strenuous life. An auction-room is an interesting place for a bookish boy to haunt, for it affords much opportunity for the study of human nature. By a turn of the kaleidoscope we arrive at a period twenty-one years later, when the Editor of the Graphic conceived the idea of reproducing a typical scene in the room which has witnessed the dispersal of many a great library, and how well the idea was carried into execution can be seen at a glance by any middle-aged habitué. The rostrum is now occupied by Mr. Edward G. Hodge, the present head of the firm, and the artist has given a 'speaking likeness' of him as he was at that date. As you look at the portrait you can almost hear him saying, "Well, gentlemen, what shall we say for this very fine copy?" Happily, he still survives in a well-earned retirement. On his right, in Mr. Pascoe's place, sits Mr. Snowden, to whose unfailing courtesy, bred in the very atmosphere of the place, we are all indebted. From that coign of vantage he has witnessed the scenes of more than thirty years of 'Sotheby's,' and seems to have solved the secret of perpetual youth. On the auctioneer's left, the first figure seated at the table, is Bernard Quaritch, the greatest English bookseller of the XIXth century. I say "English" advisedly, because, although of Prussian birth, he came to England in early manhood, entered Henry G. Bohn's establishment, started in business for himself in a small way, and, by sheer force of character, grit, and love of work, became virtually an Englishman, and de facto the Napoleon of bookselling. In Quaritch's early days Mr. Bohn produced what was known as his "guinea-pig" catalogue, the largest booksellers' list ever issued at that date, and for which he charged one guinea, and Quaritch said then, before he left Bohn's, that some day he would produce a greater. We all know how well the promise was fulfilled. The extraordinary position which he took up in the book-world of course brought him some detractors among little-minded ones, who ever begrudge to acknowledge supreme capability, and it was said, among other things, that he was 'greedy.' If it is greedy to achieve that success which is the fitting reward of talent and perseverance, then Quaritch was greedy, in company with his own countrymen, Moltke and Bismarck, or with any other of the great men of any country. In his particular sphere Quaritch was great, and not merely as a business-man, but in the qualities of his mind. Among those who knew him he was noted as a broad-minded man and a liberal employer, and I myself know of at least one case in which for years he paid a handsome salary for inadequate services rather than turn away an old employé. His saying that if he had not been a bookseller he might have been a Moltke was merely the expression of that self-confidence which every really capable, clever man has in himself, because he knows what others fail to perceive, and even when the shadow of apparent defeat envelops him, such a man sets his teeth and resolves that, in spite of circumstances, he will justify himself. Years ago Mr. Quaritch was asked why he never took a holiday. He replied that it was because his shop was to him a continual holiday. Pointing to his books, he said, "These are my grouse-moors; my yacht; my trips to Norway; my ascents of the Alps; these are my recreations." I have personal reasons for a kindly memory of Quaritch, for upon more than one occasion he went out of his way to express goodwill towards me, and after my return from America he took the trouble to call upon me, within two hours of the opening of my new premises, to welcome me back to England, and to offer to supply me with anything I could use from his stock, whether new or old. He lived within a short distance of myself, at Hampstead, and, when walking down to town, I have many a time met him, when he was 80 years of age, waiting for his omnibus at half-past eight o'clock in the morning. Mr. Quaritch was born on April 23, 1819, and died on Dec. 17, 1899. It was characteristic of him that he remained at business till the Friday evening preceding the Monday morning on which he died. Next to Mr. Quaritch, with a book in his hands, sits Mr. W. D. Reeves, of Reeves & Turner. In volume I. of Book-Auction Records a recent portrait of Mr. Reeves is given, together with an account of an interview which I had with him two years ago. Next to Mr. Reeves is E. W. Stibbs, whose business was the fore-runner of Willis and Sotheran's, and, consequently, of the present firm of Henry Sotheran & Co. Mr. Stibbs was somewhat of a 'character,' and was reputed to be the prototype of a bookseller in a play produced at the St. James's Theatre about twenty years ago. When I left Ellis & White's in February, 1873, Mr. Stibbs offered me a post in his establishment, but I was then 21 years of age, and felt that the time for employment in the service of others was gone by. He died about ten years ago. Next to Mr. Stibbs is the late Robert Walford. His business was founded in 1850, at 320 Strand, (now pulled down), in conjunction with his brother, Mr. Osborn Walford, who still survives. He died on Oct. 21, 1899, in his seventieth year, and his sons continue the business. Mr. Walford was a man of commanding presence, and essentially a gentleman, coming of good stock, and having for cousins those well-known antiquaries and littérateurs Cornelius and Edward Walford. He had, I am convinced, one of the kindliest of natures, accompanied by a witty, pungent tongue that could give utterance, without a shadow of offence, to biting phrases that no one else would dare to make use of. Once, at a country sale, a very well-known bookseller, who is still alive, asked Walford if he could give him a match to light a cigar. "Certainly," replied Walford, handing him a box, "I always carry some about with me for cadgers." But the merry twinkle in his eyes when he said such things robbed them of all their sting. He once said, with regard to malicious gossip, that he always did what he considered right, and didn't care a fig for what people said about him behind his back. And you never heard backstairs gossip from him. What he had to say was said to your face, like the man that he was. He was one of the fraternity whom we may all be sorry to have lost. Next to Walford is seated Mr. H. N. Stevens, son of the late Mr. Henry Stevens, the well-known American bookseller, and a member of the present firm of Henry Stevens, Son, & Stiles. The next seated figure is that of Mr. Robson, of Coventry Street. Standing immediately behind Mr. Quaritch, wearing a hat, is Mr. James Toovey, of Piccadilly, who has been dead some years. He dealt especially in fine and rare books in choice old bindings, and, being a bibliophile as well as a bibliopole, he left behind him a private library valued, I believe, at £30,000. I have heard an envious person unworthily sneer at him as being merely 'a leather-merchant.' Anyhow, his collection showed him to be a man of consummate taste, and repute credits him with having been a genial host. Next to Mr. Toovey, bare-headed, is the intellectual-looking figure of the late Mr. Gilbert Ellis, who succeeded to the business of his uncle, the late Mr. F. S. Ellis, of 29 New Bond Street. His life came to a premature close at the age of 43 on Feb. 6, 1902. Next to Mr. Ellis, in the background, stands the late Mr. James Roche, of New Oxford Street, who died on Dec. 19, 1900, aged 70. He was a most amiable man, with a habit of interpolating the phrase "of course" into almost every sentence he uttered. This was probably caused by nervousness, for he told me himself that he was one of the most diffident of men. He started in business in 1850, as a dealer in three-volume novels, and this brought him into close contact with such firms as Bentley's, Hurst & Blackett, Tinsleys, &c., and he literally teemed with stories of the early days of Sala, Albert Smith, Yates, and all sorts of literary hacks, journalists, and other small fry of the world of letters, most of whom are now dead, lost, famous, or forgotten. Next to him, wearing a silk hat, is Lord Brabourne; then Mr. W. Ward, of Richmond, in a low hat; Mr. Leighton, of Brewer Street (bareheaded), and, next him, wearing a tall hat, is Mr. James Westell. The other figures in the background are unknown. In the upper corner, with his back to the room, is Mr. Dykes Campbell, a book-collector, then the late Mr. Charles Hindley, who married one of the three handsome daughters of Mr. Poole, of Booksellers Row. The next figure, immediately facing the auctioneer, is that of the late Earl of Warwick, a courtly gentleman, quite of the old school. Thirty-two years ago he came into my shop one day and bought a Fourth Folio Shakespeare, a beautiful copy in the original calf, for £20, and put it under his arm, just as it was, and walked away with it. I think he told me he had the other three folios at Warwick Castle, and wanted it to complete the set. How much more than £20 would one not give for that Folio now! In the foreground, standing up, white-haired and soft-hatted, is the late Mr. Molini, an amiable, much-respected bookseller, of Italian descent, and, like Stibbs, a bit of a 'character.' All day long he did nothing but munch biscuits, which he carried about in a side-pocket; giving him, so somebody said the other day, the appearance of a rabbit. On the right of Mr. Molini, seated, is the aristocratic figure of Frederick Locker-Lampson, poet and bibliophile, whose splendid Rowfant Library has just been acquired by Dodd Mead & Co. of New York. I remember Mr. Locker (as he was then), chatting with me on booky matters, and saying "Don't you know there is a social revolution going on?" He was referring to the breaking up of the old private libraries, and their acquisition by the new rich men. Upon another occasion I tried to tempt him with some bibliographical rarity, and, with a most expressive shrug of the shoulders and inflection of the voice, he said, "No! I'm getting old." Facing the poet, with a comforter round his neck, is Dr. Neligan, an erstwhile collector, and next him, in an inverness-cape, looking towards his cousin on the opposite side of the table, is the late Edward Walford. The youth training for bibliographical honours is known as "C. S. Palmer's boy." Between the auctioneer and Mr. Snowden is the patriarchal figure of the late Mr. Daniell. In the extreme background on the left is Mr. Railton, a much respected junior partner in "Sotheran's." He died on Sep. 11, 1904, aged 60, and on the day of his funeral a card, in Mr. Henry Sotheran's handwriting, was affixed to the shutters, Closed for the funeral of my partner and best friend. The last figure, whose head appears in full over the back of Mr. Hodge's chair, is the late Mr. James Rimell, who, from a comparatively small beginning in Goodge Street in 1846, built up a highly-successful and widely-known business. He retired in 1895, and died on August 13, 1900, aged 79. He was a man of great activity, and dealt principally in illustrated books, and those connected with the fine arts. I have very pleasant personal recollections of him, but the following incident shows how easily one may be misunderstood. When I was a youngster of about 17 years of age Mr. Rimell entered an omnibus in which I was seated, and bowed and said "good morning" to somebody. I knew Mr. Rimell as a very successful bookseller, and, doubting if I was of sufficient importance to be noticed, thought he must be recognising some acquaintance in the 'bus. So I did not respond. Later on I heard that "the Rimells thought I was uppish." I beg leave to assure Mr. Rimell's son that mine was the actual reverse of "uppishness," that it was, in fact, sheer diffidence or shyness; a natural defect that requires many years' rubbing shoulders with the world to wear off. One or two other odds and ends of recollections in connection with "Sotheby's" occur to me as I write. Once, on a blazing summer afternoon, when I was there, a big, fat man, with a jolly, red face, came into the room. He was hot, he was perspiring, and I think he had been restoring exhausted nature with plenteous lemon-squash, or some other harmless palliative of the terrors of the dog-days. Fanning his face with a handkerchief, he sank heavily down on to one of the slight cane-bottom chairs beside Mr. Wilkinson. He went clean through the cane-seat, got wedged in the frame-work, and collapsed on the floor in a heap of ruins. He reminded me so much of the elephant that sat on a brood of young partridges, to nurse them. Mr. Wilkinson's endeavour to assume a sympathetic countenance was a thing to be seen and a joy for ever. I believe the victim's patronymic was Saunders, but I don't know anybody of that name now. Another time, some wicked wit had circulated a harmless skit, as a practical joke, respecting Mr. Bumsted of King William Street. Poor Bumsted, it seems, was by this time in more than second childhood, and he actually printed what he termed the "libel," and scattered it far and wide, accompanied by a personal explanation. Then he took it to Sotheby's one afternoon, and stopped a sale in progress by marching up and down the room, flourishing the "libel," and haranguing the company on the enormity of the offence, and every person present expected to be charged with its authorship. Fortunately an attendant was with him, and he was soothed and got off the premises as quietly as possible. He died not long after. I wonder, too, if many of my subscribers remember the "prospectus" (4 pages, foolscap), of a "Company," or "Syndicate," or something of the kind for purchasing rare books at sales, one of the prominent "directors" of which bore a well-known and still-existent literary name. I once had a copy given me, from out of a packet of 200 or more, but it has been lost in the lapse of 30 years. It created infinite amusement at the time to those who were behind the scenes. Then there was . . . . . .

. . . . . "Eh? what's that?" "Telephone 11097 Central." "Hallo! who are you?" "Printer's devil, sir. The guv'nor says he can't wait for any more of your reminiscences." "Oh, very well, 'Needs must,' etc. Tell him I'm coming. Good bye." . . . . . Now, there we are! Well, it has been a not uncongenial task to conjure up these slight recollections of colleagues and others, many of whom have vanished for ever into the Silent Land. Perhaps the pleasantest feature of all is the reassuring fact that our calling seems to be conducive to longevity. Is it, I wonder, that the Gods do not love booksellers? Anyhow, let us hope that we all, of the present generation, may be no exception to the rule, and that the day when reminiscences of us can be written may be far, far distant.

NOTE.—The engraving from the Graphic picture has been reproduced also in Mr. Roberts's Book-Hunter in London. Strict personal enquiries have proved that the key-plate issued with it is not quite accurate. The names now given are correct throughout. We learn from Mr. Roberts's book that the founder of the firm was Samuel Baker, who started as an auctioneer in York Street, Covent Garden in 1744, and took into partnership George Leigh and John Sotheby. In 1818, the firm removed to the present premises, 13, Wellington Street, Strand. Death removed its members one by one, and in 1830 Samuel Leigh Sotheby, grandson of the original Sotheby, joined the firm; in 1843 Mr. John Wilkinson became a partner, and in 1864 the admission of Mr. Edward G. Hodge brought the title of the firm to that which we all know in the present day.

COLLOQUIALISMS

To my Subscribers,

In this Part it was intended to print a translation of an article upon the career of Mr. Ludwig Rosenthal, of Munich, but great pressure of matter causes its unavoidable postponement until the appearance of Part 4, in which it will be duly published.

Twenty-four omissions from Part 2 (referred to on page 329) are included in this Part. In those cases the sales are, therefore, previous to April 1.

The Antique Trading Co., 8 Vicarage Road, Tottenham, London, are sole agents for the Directory of Collectors, which originates with M. Renart, of Paris. The edition of 1904 (price 16s. net) contains the addresses of 4000 collectors of books, antiquities, coins, postage stamps, &c., and is subscribed to by nearly all the important booksellers of Europe. A new edition for 1905-6 will shortly be issued, and will contain an additional 8 pages of English collectors. In the case of all lists of names it may pay one remarkably well if only one good customer is secured through sending out a trial batch of catalogues, and it is quite certain that the more money you spend in endeavouring to expand your business the more money you make. So I recommend applying to the Antique Trading Co. for a prospectus of the work.

At Sotheby's, June 3, 28 books were sold (lots 774 to 801, at prices varying from £1 2s. to £10), which had formed part of Napoleon's library at St. Helena, and bore his stamp on the titles, and in some cases the Imperial Eagle on the bindings. The books were only of value for sentimental reasons, and the prices being absolutely useless for purposes of reference, the lots are omitted.

It is reported that a copy of the first edition of Shakespeare's Richard III. has been discovered in a house at Great Missenden. The newspaper man further reported that the book was sent up to Sotheby's for valuation, and that that firm immediately made an offer of £800 for it. Since when, I wonder, have Messrs. Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge become booksellers and book-buyers. Also, it was the fourth issue that was discovered, not the first. It sold at Sotheby's, on July 12, for £1750. See Part 4.

A case recently arose in which a subscriber could find no record of an old book because he did not know the author's name (which did not appear on the title), and, as the result of enquiring from us, the record (showing that the work had realised £15), was pointed out to him. If ever you are in the same difficulty and will write (enclosing a stamped envelope for reply) I will do my best to send you the information required.

A correspondence appeared in the Publishers' Circular, during May and June, respecting descriptions in auction-catalogues. I have no space to deal with the point at issue, but I feel bound to say that criticism must sometimes be helpful to cataloguers as to other persons. When, for instance, you find such an entry as this:

CRUIKSHANK (G.) History of the Irish Rebellion

instead of

MAXWELL (W. H.) History of the Irish Rebellion

you feel that the cataloguer requires some instruction in the first principles of his calling. If wanted as a heading, CRUIKSHANK should be printed in front of MAXWELL, and without the initial.

Instructions to Young Cataloguers; (a Revisal of Current Errors):—

1. You must not place D'Horsay, or the Follies of the Day, under the heading of Standfast, (which is merely a pseudonym for the name of the illustrator), but under the author's name, John Mills.
2. See that your printer does not misrepresent your intelligence or your application by printing Dove's Press instead of Doves Press.
3. Do not spell the name of the author of 'Rural Sports' thus—Daniel. It is Daniell. At every auction-room last quarter this error occurred. It is slipshod, and slipshoddiness is the father of inefficiency.
4. Do not waste space by stating that a book has the half-title, but when the half-title is missing, state that fact. It is presumed, in the absence of indications to the contrary, that every book is perfect, and you might just as well proceed to add that the copy has also the title, the Dedication, the Preface, and pp. so-and-so. It is easier by far to be a purist, and to catalogue on principle, than to invent an unscientific system (or want of system) of your own.
5. 'Chrysal, or the Adventures of a Guinea,' was written by Charles Johnson; not Charles Johnston.
6. Christian names, or initials, should always be added when obtainable. In nine cases out of ten in which you omit them it is merely a question of referring to Brunet, Lowndes, Men of the Reign, or some other such work.
7. The date of the first edition of The Pottleton Legacy, by Albert Smith, is 1849; not 1854.
8. The date of the first edition of Mr. Sponge's Sporting Tour, by Surtees, is 1853; not 1860.

Finally; Don't get angry for these suggestions, but write and thank me, just as I will thank you for any errors of my own that you care to point out. We are all of us only human, and are bound to make mistakes. The folly is when we live and don't learn.

The whole of the copies of vol 1 of "Book Auction Records" are now sold except 10. Those 10 copies can be obtained from us for £1 1s each. Vol 1 contains 20,000 records, and 4 plates (including an excellent portrait of the late Mr. J. W. Bouton of New York, and another of Dr. F. W. Gunsaulus, of Chicago), and is bound in cloth, gilt edges. Vol 1 will be the scarcest of the series, as many copies were rendered incomplete through separate parts being sent out on inspection.

The copy of Browning's Pauline, sold at New York in April, for £255, is recorded in this Part.

New subscribers are requested to note that when records are merely republications of former records in the same year, both as regards condition and price, they are omitted. Re-iteration is not only purposeless but is a nuisance to the searcher.

The will of Mr. Barnard B. Hodgson (aged 73) was recently proved for £169,327. I remember him well when he used to occupy the rostrum in Chancery Lane. He retired from the firm about 30 years ago.

Messrs. Williams & Norgate's International Book Circular No. 140, contains an article on The Recent Development of Art Books by Dr. G. C. Williamson. The circular can be obtained gratis on application at 14, Henrietta Street, W.C.

The authorship of Real Life in London has been attributed, in Messrs. Methuen's reprint, to Pierce Egan. Egan wrote the Life in London. The Real Life in London was a rival work, in a different style, and published slightly later than Egan's book. For the sake of bibliographical accuracy the error should be corrected. Even the Athenæum, of June 17, 1905, accepts Egan's authorship without question, and so does an auctioneers' catalogue, in June.

The notes in the sale of Shakespeariana (Sotheby, May 25th), are too profuse to attempt to reprint, but they are valuable for cataloguing purposes and the catalogue should be preserved. In my own experience the only efficient method of preserving such matter for reference is that of pasting each article on slips half the size of a sheet of note paper and keeping them alphabetically in drawers divided by wooden partitions.

In Part 1 the singular bequest of Thomas Nash, of Bath was quoted, for the bells of the Abbey Church to be rung, with solemn and doleful changes, on the anniversary of his wedding. Mr. Goad, upon enquiry at the Abbey Church, found that, in his own words, "the City Fathers of that time declined with thanks what they regarded as the freak of an eccentric, and so the money was handed over to the Unitarians. The ringers of to-day, on being spoken to about it, merely drew their cuffs across their mouths and looked dry."

Watch the advertisement of B. A. R. in The Clique. Each week it tells you something new.

It ought to be worth while to send catalogues to Dr. William Osler, Regius Professor of Medicine, The University, Oxford. Dr. Osler comes from Baltimore, U.S.A., and has just been appointed. He is one of Baltimore's greatest men, and a profound student of English literature.

Mr. Truman, the Cruikshank collector, died worth £32,762, and left 10s. per week for life to his cabman, an old fellow almost as old as himself. All honour to Mr. Truman's memory for this.

Some good fellow has sent 10s. for Mrs. Marshall, without giving his name. Postmark, London, June 23. I should much like to know the identity of the donor, if he will be so good as to write, and I promise not to divulge. Upon going to Mrs. Marshall to hand her the subscriptions I learnt that in consequence of her poverty she has had to move, and I followed her to three separate addresses, only to find that she had gone to an address, not known, "in the City Road." Enquiries made by others have failed to locate her, but the moment this Part is printed I will take the matter in hand myself, and feel sure of succeeding. You shall know the result in Part 4, and meanwhile if anybody still wishes to subscribe do not hesitate to do so. At the worst, finding her is only a question of house-to-house visitation in the City Road.

An American subscriber writes :—May 31. I think your reconstructed B. A. R. is "bully." Why, certainly!

Please note that, in return for 15s. 9d., you now possess 14,319 records, 3 plates, 3 supplements, and notices of your catalogues which should be of service to you. Compare advantages and let me know what you think.

The commendations of B. A. R. are so enthusiastic that I should like to print the whole of them, but cannot. I shall appreciate criticism and suggestions even more, because that way improvement lies. I shall be especially glad of notification of omission of any important book, because the omission can always be rectified in the next part. Special thanks are tendered to those subscribers who appreciate B. A. R. so much that they enclose a halfpenny stamp for receipts.

THE HOUSE OF ALDUS MANUTIUS

HOUSE OF ALDUS MANUTIUS

The frontispiece to this Part is a reproduction of an unpublished drawing of the house of Aldus Manutius, made at Venice, in 1879 by Mr. Charles Martin, son of John Martin, the great biblical landscape-painter. It was at this house that, in the year 1488, Aldus established himself as a printer, and from it issued, between the years 1494-1514, those exquisite examples of his press which are treasured in all centres of taste and learning. Eighty years ago the first editions of the Aldine Press realised as high prices as early Shakespeariana realises now, and the difference of an eighth of an inch in height made or marred the value of copies. Young booksellers who wish to look up the subject will find brief but excellent accounts of Aldus in the British Cyclopædia of Biography, 1837 (under Manutius), and Cassell's Biographical Dictionary (under Manuzio). Also, see Brunet, under Introduction pour les Enfans and Renouard, Annales de l'Imprimerie des Alde.

Retrospect of Fifty Years' Work in German Second-Hand Bookselling; being an Account of Herr Ludwig Rosenthal, of Munich. Translated for Book-Auction Records from Dem Börsenblatt, May 24, 1905.

Among the founders of the great bookselling firms of Germany, in ancient and modern times, there are several men who have acquired a world-wide reputation solely by their indomitable energy and untiring vigilance, combined with natural ability for the profession of their choice.

Among these "specialists," we are perfectly justified in including Louis Rosenthal, the founder of the firm of Louis Rosenthal's Second-hand Bookselling business at Munich, who this month can look back upon a fifty years' career in the bookselling business.

Louis Rosenthal was born on July 2nd, 1840, at Fellheim, a small borough on the Iller, in the kingdom of Bavaria. Want of means prevented his father from sending the clever boy to a secondary school; he contrived, however, that, at a cost of four hours' walking, his son, at the age of 13, when he was attending the elementary school, should have the advantage of private instruction in English three times a week at Buxheim, which was a two miles' walk from Fellheim. With such slight equipment for the bookselling business Louis was apprenticed to J. Hess at Ellwangen in May, 1855. Under the direction of this new and second-hand bookseller, whose ability is well-known, he, with his wonted diligence, exerted himself to make up for the deficiencies in his education by taking private lessons in English, French and Latin from a teacher at the 'Gymnasium' and by reading, with a view to self-improvement, till late at night. The first book that the apprentice noted professionally was Scheffel's Ekkehard, which appeared in 1855. Even during his apprenticeship his zeal for collecting, and diligence in searching after rare and valuable books was remarkable, and served to point out to him the path he was afterwards to follow. Among other things purchased by his employer's son he discovered the Mirabilia Urbis Romae, of which a facsimile reprint has appeared this year. "The little span-long volume," as the lucky discoverer called it in a letter to his father, was sold for the ridiculously low price (judged by the standard of the present day) of 1200 marks. His zeal for collecting next saved a great number of original editions of Goethe from destruction by stamping. After an apprenticeship of 3½ years, of which, with his usual diligence, he had made the best use possible, he received his apprentice-certificate from his employer with best wishes for his future.

For a short time, the young assistant worked in the bookselling business of H. N. Feddersen at Liegnitz. But the impulse to independence gave the ambitious youth no rest, so long as he was working for wages; he was desirous of carrying out, in a business of his own, ideas he had conceived during his apprenticeship. Therefore, after passing with distinction the examination of apprentices for assistantships (which there has recently been a vain attempt to abolish) and the examination for the independent carrying-on of the bookselling business (new and second-hand) at the end of 1859, the youth (who was still under 20), with his father as sleeping-partner, inaugurated a second-hand bookshop of very modest pretensions at Fellheim by his first purchase of a library. The modest success which rewarded his unremitting work in business and private study spurred on the enterprising beginner (who never forgot to enrich his bibliographical and typographical knowledge and to put it to a practical use) to fresh undertakings. In 1863 he joined the Booksellers' Association, became a member of the Exchange, and had his agents at Leipzig and Stuttgart. At the same time his first catalogue of second-hand books appeared—"Catholic Theology"—furnished, even at this early date, with an appendix of "Manuscripts," and literature relating to the Virgin, the Jesuits, and Heresies. This catalogue included the goodly number of 3000 volumes of ancient literature. To this early decision to confine himself to second-hand bookselling, giving the preference to ancient literature, he always remained constant. In the continual advance of his business-development there naturally followed catalogues of Protestant Theology, Writings of the Reformation Period, Ancient Jurisprudence and Medicine, Typographical Rarities, Books of Engravings, Ornamentation, Editions de Luxe, &c. The little town of Fellheim was no longer adapted for the further advance of this second-hand bookseller, who had already a large business connection. He therefore, in 1867, removed his business to Munich, after a personal license had been granted him, on his application, for carrying on the second-hand bookselling trade in the town of Munich, "in consideration that the aforesaid Rosenthal has fulfilled the legal domiciliary conditions with regard to removal, is well-qualified, and, as is ascertained from references, is possessed of sufficient property (there were only 5000 gulden according to the certificate with regard to property and character of the Municipality of Fellheim) to ensure his being able to maintain himself there; seeing also that there is testimony of his great business capacity and energy, and that the business of second-hand bookselling is of a particularly profitable nature."

The choice of Munich was a happy one. Here the powers of the young second-hand bookseller had full scope. The business grew rapidly, thanks to his untiring zeal and the publication of the catalogue, the bibliographical excellence of which was well-known. Travels on business in his own little country, as well as in Germany, Austria, France and England, constantly widened his outlook, led to the discovery and acquisition of rare typographical productions and manuscripts, created fresh connections and markets, and brought Rosenthal, who was always eager to learn, in contact with scholars and bibliophiles, who, on their side, knew how to appreciate the eager zeal, the many-sided knowledge of bibliography, and the quick comprehension and satisfaction of their wishes.

In 1874 Louis Rosenthal took his brothers, James and Nathan (who had learnt the business of second-hand bookselling under him) into partnership; but he himself remained, as before, the soul of the concern. The purchase of famous libraries* in time so extended the business that the warehouse of the firm of Louis Rosenthal's Second-hand Bookselling business at Munich became the richest in Germany in block books, rare prints, manuscripts and monographs, and acquired a world-wide reputation. Indeed, the business grew so large that it seemed desirable to divide it, so the brothers, who, for more than 20 years, had worked together in the large building, separated in 1895 and carried on second-hand bookselling, each on his own account, with a firm of his own. Louis Rosenthal, renouncing his chief share in the business, kept to the old firm, and with his old ability led it on in the paths which had been recognised as the right ones, till, this year, 1905, fifty years after his entry into the bookselling business, he took into partnership his three sons, Adolphus, Norbert and Henry.

* The following is the list of the libraries purchased:—The Library of the Benedictine Monastery of St. Vitus, at Neumarkt on the Rott; the Town Library of Leutkirch, Würtemberg; the Library of the Hoermann v. Gutenberg family (with a collection of copper-plates); the Library of the Jesuit College, Landsberg; the Library of Baron Charles Maria of Aretin, Director of the National Museum, Munich; Part of the Library of the Carthusian Monastery, Buxheim, near Memmingen; and the Library of the Manor of Lobris, Silesia.

The obligations of learning to the Rosenthal Second-hand Bookselling business have often been acknowledged in reports and speeches. The well-arranged catalogues of the firm are used as works of reference on account of their bibliographical accuracy, and are still oftener quoted in bibliographies of special subjects. By the discovery of John Schöner's lost map of the world (1523), showing Magellan's route in his circumnavigation of the globe in the years 1519-22, with a critical estimate by Prof. F. R. v. Wissor, and by that of the Missale Speciale, in which Hupp, Misset and Stein recognised a proof of Gutenberg's and a fore-runner of the Psalter of 1457, Louis Rosenthal was enabled to render to learning the proverbial 'yeoman's service.' He himself has written for the Repertory of Technicology, Vol. V., pp. 379-405, a bibliographical study on Hans Beham's Old Testament woodcuts and their application to the Illustration of Books, 1529-1612; and has also communicated much information of bibliographical interest in leaflets. Indeed, the majority of libraries and museums derive their treasures, directly or indirectly, from the Louis Rosenthal house. One of the chief branches of the firm's business is the trade with America, as can easily be understood, for the young libraries and museums there are still very poor in typographical rarities.

The first biography of Louis Rosenthal, therefore, appeared in America, in The Curio, Vol. I., 1888:—"This man, so early cast on his own resources, entirely destitute of means, strove, eschewing self-indulgence, by hard work, not only by day but also frequently for many hours of the night, to make up the deficiencies in his education, and to bring up his business to that height on which it now stands, after years of toil. Louis Rosenthal has thus become identified with the flourishing second-hand book trade at Munich, for, besides the firms of James and Nathan Rosenthal, which proceeded directly from his business, the partners in several esteemed firms at Munich have been his pupils. Through Louis Rosenthal the centre of the branch of second-hand bookselling taken up by him, which was formerly at Leipzig and Berlin, has been transferred to South Germany; through him Munich has become the chief emporium for block books, rare prints, and manuscripts of all sorts."

To this man, who has now energetically worked in the book-trade for 50 years, who to-day stands at the head of a house which enjoys a world-wide reputation, and—a splendid example to his fellow workers—labours with untiring industry, surrounded by a bibliographical hand-apparatus such as only great libraries possess,—may the rare good fortune be granted to live to see the 50th anniversary of the business he has founded, and may his vigour then equal that of the house he has established.

COLLOQUIALISMS

The Health Resorts Development Association, 2 Gray's Inn Road, W.C., have issued an admirable series of Guides to Aberystwyth, Bexhill, Bournemouth, Broadstairs, Carnarvon, Clacton, Deal, Dorking, Eastbourne, Falmouth, Harwich, Hastings, Leamington, Llandrindod Wells, Malvern, Rhyl, Southend, Southport, Southwold, and Tenby. Each is profusely illustrated with photo-engravings of the most picturesque spots, with a history of the place, train-service, sports, excursions, lists of apartments, views of boarding houses, &c., &c. And each one of these attractive picture-books will be sent you, gratis and post free, on application by post-card to the Town Clerks of the respective places.

Mr. Henry Sotheran, of 140 Strand, and 37 Piccadilly, died on July 30, 1905, aged 85. An account of his career appeared in the Athenæum, Aug. 5, 1905.

Wanted, any information respecting A. Schumaner, 720 Chestnut St., St. Louis, U.S.A.

Mr. J. Herbert Slater informs me that the late Mr. G. F. Underhill, author of several works on hunting, and who had exceptional means of knowing the facts, declared that R. S. Surtees was the author of Analysis of the Hunting Field. That work will therefore in future be recorded under that writer's name, and my thanks are due to Mr. Slater for his courteous answer to my enquiries.

Somebody has been victimising booksellers by reporting books in the name of E. Brown, 9 Maiden Lane, obtaining cash in advance; and there letting the matter end so far as he was concerned. The following facsimile of one of his post-cards may possibly lead to identification. The postmark was Balham, S. W., so, in all probability, he lives in that suburb. The marks across the card are the Nos. of the postal orders sent in response. Any information sent to me will be treated confidentially, but will of course be supplied to the police, for them to act upon. No. 9 Maiden Lane is a small shop where letters are received. E. Brown is described as being a short man, well-dressed, with iron-grey hair.

I can strongly recommend Mr. Arthur Groves for Indexing; research work, genealogical and literary, of all kinds; tracing of pedigrees and family histories; library-arranging and cataloguing. The index to vol. 2 of B. A. R. is by Mr. Groves. Any letters addressed to him here will be forwarded.

Foreign bibliophiles should note that at Langley (18 miles from London; trains from Paddington or Mansion House stations), is a library attached to the church, formed by Sir John Kederminster in the reign of Charles I. This library was used by Milton, in his youth, when residing with his father at Horton, 2½ miles away, and the chair used by the poet is still there, and can be seen, together with the books. For an account of the library see Athenæum, July 29, 1905.

Instructions to Young Cataloguers, (a revisal of current errors) :—

1. The date of the first edition of Handley Cross is 1836; not 1843, nor 1846, as variously stated.
2. Roscoe's Novelist's Library. Robinson Crusoe. The plates are not by George Cruikshank; but the plates in the remaining 17 vols of the set are by that artist.
3. Stafford's Pacata Hibernia, 1810, when in 3 vols, 4to, (instead of 2 vols, 8vo), is on large paper. See Lowndes.
4. De Quincey's Works should be catalogued under De, not under Quincey.

Lowndes himself admits his error, and states that the entry should have been under De Quincey. Nobody ever speaks of Quincey's Works.

5. The author of Cambria Depicta was Edward Pugh; not Richard Pugh.
6. John Collier was the author of Tim Bobbin's Lancashire Dialect; not G. Cruikshank. The latter was merely the illustrator of the edition of 1828.
7. Newgate Calendar. The woodcuts in this work are not 'by G. & R. Cruikshank.'
8. The works of the Sieur de St. Evremond should appear under St.; not under Evremond. See Lowndes.
9. The first edition of The Duenna, by Sheridan, was 1775; not 1794. Lowndes expressly states that the edition of 1794 was the eighth.
10. The works of Du Bartas should appear under his own name, and not under that of his translator, Joshua Silvester. The same rule of course applies to all similar cases, and, if followed, such an absurdity as Shakespeare's Ovid—which occurred in May—would be avoided.

Pressure of space prevents more being said at present, but, generally speaking, cultivate terseness, avoid redundance, and thereby strengthen the force of what you do state.

The denseness of some traders is appalling. There is simply no other word for it. For instance, I am sometimes told, "No, thanks, I don't want B. A. R. because I subscribe to—so-and-so. I then write and point out that B. A. R., Vol. 2, contains 15,751 records, (being more than double those contained anywhere else), together with 4 plates, (which are, presumably, of some interest), 4 supplements of bibliographical and other matter, and what are practically free advertisements of subscribers' catalogues; and all this for less money than is paid elsewhere for less results. But my labour is thrown away on such folk. They shake their heads; murmur "It was my father's custom, and so it shall be mine," (forgetful of the fact that the world moves), and go on their sleepy way, unrejoicing. What does the intelligent trader do? He throws the obsolete tool on to the scrap-heap, and buys the more efficient one. Verb. sap.

Present address wanted of Mr. Benjamin May, late of 176 Queen's Road, Bayswater.

* Addresses wanted will be inserted in B. A. R. gratis to subscribers.

Mrs. Marshall has been found through the medium of Lloyd's Weekly News, and the following is her receipt for the amount of the subscriptions, which were as follows:—

Mr. Halewood	5s. 0d.	Mr. Goad	5s. 0d.
Anonymous	10s. 0d.	F. Karslake	10s. 6d.

'No. 117 East Road, City Road, N. Received from Mr. Frank Karslake the sum of £1 10s. 6d. for subscriptions. Ellen Marshall, Aug. 16, 1905.'

The Editor of Lloyd's was kind enough to insert the following paragraph in the issue of August 20, (p. 15), and there I must leave the matter in the hands of subscribers to B. A. R. I will only add that Mrs. Marshall would be excellently suited to take a post as working care-taker, where reliability and good character are essential.

'An inquiry in last week's Lloyd's for Mrs. Marshall, the widow of an old bookseller (who had been lost sight of in the wilderness of London), was speedily answered. The friendly inquirer, Mr. Frank Karslake, editor "Book Auction Records," 35 Pond-street, Hampstead, paid her a visit, and writes us:—

'I learnt from her own lips that she is 61 years old; can earn only 6s. per week; and pays 3s. 6d. per week rent for one room, in which she keeps together the remains of her former home. But, as 2s. 6d. per week is hardly enough to keep body and soul together, she has gradually sold some of her chairs, and even underclothing, to buy food with. She dreads the idea of having to go to the workhouse when all her resources are exhausted, but can even now almost joke over the way she manages to eke out her weekly 2s. 6d. for food.

'Mr. Karslake speaks of Mrs. Marshall as one of our worthy and deserving poor, and it is to be hoped a little timely help will be accorded her.'

Since the above was printed the following has been received:—'117 East Road, N. Dear Sir, Just a line to express my gratitude to you for your kindness to me in my darkest hour. My husband, as you know, was well-known and respected throughout the bookselling world, he having been with some of the principal men for a good number of years. I thank you most sincerely for the £1 10s. 6d. that you so kindly gave me, with which I was able to meet my most immediate expenses. Yours truly, Ellen Marshall.'

My appreciation is so keen of the enthusiastic support received from subscribers that I wish to give practical proof of it, in the following manner. If, instead of binding the 4 parts of B. A. R., you will send them to me, on Oct. 1, carriage paid, with an addressed label bearing a 5d. postage stamp, and will also send a postal order for 2s., I will send you, per return parcel-post, a new copy in cloth, top edges gilt, in the style that all volumes will continue to be issued in, together with a specially-made slip-case for keeping the parts in, each year. When remitting for Part 4 please notify me, so that a sufficient number of cases may be made. If, however, you bind the copy yourself, I strongly advise top edges gilt only, as it makes a much more shapely volume than with cut edges. The binding of vol. 1 has never met with my approval, and when you get vol. 2 you may think it worth while to rebind vol. 1 to match. B. A. R. will contain so much matter of permanent value and interest that every subscriber will probably desire to possess a complete and sightly set. If preferred, cloth cases for binding vol. 2 will be supplied, post free, for 1s. 3d. Remittance to accompany order.

Mr. Macphail, of Edinburgh, writes respecting Part 3:—'Aug. 2, 1905. It is as good as ever, and that is saying a great deal. There is and can be no greater help to the provincial bookseller than B. A. R. It has fulfilled my highest expectations. . . . Do you not think you could add a little to your own profit by putting advertisements at the end and the beginning? It would be a splendid medium for certain kinds of advertisements, such as those which appear in Notes and Queries, or special works of value for sale.' I can only state that I shall be very glad to furnish terms for such advertisements, and to give every possible advantage as to type, position, &c., and, also suggestions as to their form if the ideas are supplied. The charge will be at the rate of £1 1s. per page.

An original subscriber, Mr. James Miles, of Leeds, writes, 'July 31, 1905. This month's issue is a very interesting one, and the large number of records therein should make the work indispensable to every bookseller, who, it appears to me, gets the result of a tremendous amount of labour for very little money. If any convenience to you I shall be happy to pay for vol. 3 in advance.' Well, the only convenience is that payment in one sum saves me exactly three-fourths of the labour of entering-up subscriptions and sending invoices and receipts, and of course I appreciate this very highly, and would go very far out of my way at any time to be of service to those capable of showing such consideration. At the same time, I don't ask for, or expect, payment in advance, so you can please yourselves. Mr. Miles is one of the 52 subscribers who paid for vol. 2 in advance, and got it, and are delighted with it, and he and they know that whatever I promise to do is done.

Not only have an increasing number of subscribers sent a halfpenny stamp for receipts but several have actually remitted 5s. 6d. instead of 5s. 3d., for Part 3. It is so unusual to be offered more than you ask that the experience is refreshing, and is also a stimulation to further effort—if that be possible.

The vacation will cause a big gap between this and the next Part, and we shall not meet again till January 31st. Is it, I wonder, too far ahead to wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year? If not, I do so with all my heart. Of course I know it sounds paradoxical, at a time when you are basking in the sun, by the sad sea waves, but it is the only opportunity possible. The wish is, also, perhaps, prompted by the fact that 1905 has been a very happy year for me, since B. A. R. has prospered beyond all expectation. So, in the old Roman way, and for the time being only, Vale!

* Bible, with signature, "William Shakspere, 1614," on the reverse of the title to the New Testament, and again on the end cover, "Willm Shakspere off S.O.A. (i.e., of Stratford-on-Avon), his Bible, 1613." This vol was discovered near Manchester, about 1850, by the present owner's grandfather, William Sharp, a well-known collector of books and prints, whose library and print collection were sold in these rooms in 1877-8, occupying 14 days' sale. W. Sharp bequeathed it to his only daughter at his decease in 1881, and at her death in 1890 it passed to the present owner, her son. Its discovery in 1850 aroused much interest, and in "Notes and Queries" (?1884), there is an interesting reference to the find, and a query as to what has become of it. The book originally cost Mr. Sharp only a few pounds; but when the interest of it became known, (Mr. Corser and other famous collectors having examined it), the owner was offered £150 for it, but refused to part with it. Besides the signature of Shakespeare on last cover, there is also the following inscription: "John Fox off Warwick was the owner off this Bible, anno dom. 1633." This inscription is important, as it locates the book as being in Shakespeare's county only seventeen years after his death. From Fox's hands it passed into the possession of the Bradshaw family, and it has an inscription, "William Bradshaw, son of John Bradshaw, is the true owner of this Bible, Anno 1666," and there are accounts of the death of his father John, his brothers John, George, Thomas, and Henry, all of whom died before 1664, after which it again changed hands and belonged to Thomas Hall, and has inscription, "Thomas Hall, is the true owner off this Bible, Anno 1727," and of "James Hall, 1743." These signatures are of great importance, for Shakespeare's daughter married a John Hall; it also bears the inscriptions of John and Mary Dawson, 1702, and John Holt, 1801. The Bible was loaned to the Tudor Exhibition, at Manchester, in 1897.

Booth (Rob.) Encomium Heroum, Carmine Tentatum, unbound, 4to, 1620. Storry, £6 2s 6d S. Dec. 7

* Of this slender volume of 12 leaves Lowndes cites only the copy in the British Museum, and the Dictionary of National Biography devotes an article to the author, noticing the dedication to Bacon. Booth was born about 1590 and died in 1657. It is not a Praise or Encomium of Heroes in general, but of Bacon, James 1st, and the Earl of Dorset. Bacon, on his elevation to the woolsack, seems to have conferred on Booth some vital service. The circumstance is directly interesting, as it supplies one case where Bacon performed an act of kindness on behalf of a man who was nothing more than an obscure Cambridge student.

—— The Family Bible of Robert Burns the Poet (1759-96) (imperfect), fo., Edinb., John Reid, 1766. Quaritch, £1,560 S. Dec. 7

This extremely interesting and valuable relic of the National Poet of Scotland, contains, on the reverse of the title of the New Testament, in the handwriting of the poet, the following entries :—

"Robt. Burns was born at Aloway in the Parish of Ayr—Janry. 25th, 1759."

"Jean Armour his Wife, was born at Mauchline, Febry. 27, 1767."

"Septr. 3rd, 1786, were born to them twins, Robert their eldest Son at a quarter past Noon, and Jean since dead at fourteen months old —March 3, 1788, were born to them twins again, two daughters, who died within a few days after their birth—August 18th, 1789, was born to them Francis Wallace, so named after Mrs. Dunlop of Dunlop, he was born at a quarter before seven forenoon—April 9th, 1791, between three and four in the morning, was born to them William Nicol, so named after Willm. Nicol, of the High School, Edinr.—November 21st, 1792, at a quarter past noon, was born to them Elizabeth Riddel, so named after Mrs. Robt. Riddel of Glenriddel."

Then follows (in the handwriting of James Glencairn Burns) "James Glencairn, born 12th Augt. 1794, named after the Earl of Glencairn," and "Maxwell, born 26th July, 1796, the day of his Ffather's Funeral—so named after Dr. Maxwell, the Physician who attended the Poet in his last illness, inserted by W. N. Burns, 9th April, 1867" (in the handwriting of the latter.)

The pedigree of the Bible is as follows :—(1) Willed by Jean (Armour) Burns to her eldest son Robert Burns; (2) A signed Receipt (in existence) of Robert Burns on receiving the book; (3) In possession of William Nicol Burns (the Poet's second surviving son); (4) In the latter's lifetime he gave the Bible to Sarah E. M. T. Burns-Hutchinson, his niece (who lived with him), and she is the present owner of it. There is another Burns Family Bible extant, but that is merely the one originally kept by Burns's father, William Burnes, the above being the only Family Bible of the Poet.

Caxton.—Mirrour of the World, trans. from the French by William Caxton, 1st edn., black letter (No. 2 Type), 29 lines to a full page, woodcut diagrams, 36 leaves only, sm. fol., unbnd. [Westminster, 1481] Quaritch, £100 H. Nov. 16

* A very interesting fragment of the second Book printed by Caxton with woodcut ills. The type—No. 2* according to Blades—is the first fount used by Caxton on setting up his press in England. The complete Book, of which a second edn. was published about 1490, consists of 99 leaves, and the above therefore comprises a little more than one-third, the actual collation being as follows:—B. 8 ll. and E. to H. 4 28 ll. The initial letters, which in the British Museum copy are left blank, are here filled in with red ink, as are also the paragraph marks. The diagrams have the usual MS. explanations, the latter being in the same hand as in the Museum example, but with an addition in respect of the diagram on the verso of E. 3. The margins are much cut down but the text is intact, and the leaves are in remarkably clean condition.

Farnaby (Th.) Florilegium Epigrammatum Graecorum, Eorumque Latino Versu a variis redditorum, old gt. cf., 1629 Storrey, £8 15s S. Dec. 7

* An excessively rare volume of which the importance has been greatly enhanced by the Baconian theory in regard to the authorship of Shakespeare's plays. The advocates of that theory dwell on the statement of Aubrey, that Bacon was "a good poet, but concealed," as appeared by his letters. See verses of his Lordship's which Farnaby translated into Greek, and printed in his Anthology. "The world's a bubble, and the life of man lesse than a span,"

&c. The verses of Bacon, of which Aubrey quotes the above opening lines, were a parody on certain Latin ones on the Seven Ages of Man, and Bacon's English rendering, which seems to have fallen into the hands of Farnaby, is printed with Farnaby's Greek on opposite pages.

Malone (E.) Account of the Incidents from which the Title and Story of Shakespeare's Tempest were derived and its true date ascertained, with the rare Appendix, of which only 200 copies were printed, orig. wrappers, uncut, 1808 Abbey, £10 5s S. Dec. 7
* Bears inscription by Malone, "To the Revd. J. Price, not published, only 80 copies having been printed. It is requested that this pamphlet may not be inadvertently put into the hands of any person who may be likely to publish any part of it." There are also corrections in Malone's writing. The work is an account of the circumstances attending the storm by which Sir G. Somers was shipwrecked at Bermuda in 1609, which, in the author's words, "unquestionably gave rise to Shakespeare's Tempest."

—— Paradisus Amissa.—Poema nunc autem ex Autoris Exemplari Latine Redditum per M(athew) B(old), 4to, contemporary cf. gt., typis, J. G., 1702 Pearson, £25 S. Dec. 7

* Excessively rare. A sensation was recently caused by the announcement that a MS. of the first book of Paradise Lost was to be sold by auction. This MS. is so far curious, that it seems to indicate a project for publishing the first book separately. In the present volume it is distinctly stated, on one of the two title-pages, that the same book was translated into Latin by M. B. (initials amplified in coeval MS. into Mathew Bold on the title), from the author's own copy. The Latin and English are on opposite pages, and the question is whether this is not the same text as the MS. above mentioned. Lowndes had evidently never seen this edition as he describes it as being in 8vo.

* The Second Psalter from the Press of the Inventors of Printing, and the third or fourth printed book with a date. It is supposed only 20 copies were printed, at the expense of the Carthusian Monastery of St. James outside Mentz. Only 12 copies are known to exist. This copy was discovered by M. Alois Berger in the library of Count Wilhelm von Westerholt-Gysenberg, in the Castle of Freienthun, near Klagenfurt, in Carinthia, whose stamp occurs in three places. It appears to have come into that family's possession on the dissolution of the above-mentioned monastery in 1781. The last leaf bears the MS. inscription "Carthæ Moguntinæ, 1656." The volume has a MS. calendar on vell. (6 ll.) at the beginning, as well as a leaf from an ancient vellum missal. Some Offices have been partly erased and new ones inserted, and there are several new antiphons, written on vell., throughout the volume, which is generally in excellent condition, the leaves being very little worn and quite complete. The Syston Park copy realised £4950. The discoverer of this copy, Dr. Alois Berger, contributed an account of it to the Centralblatt für Bibliothekwesen, Feb. iv., 321, 1887.

Catalogue of the Collection of Books in Valuable Bindings, of the late Professor W. H. Corfield, M.D., comprising Early Stamped, Embroidered, Inlaid and other Bindings, by Binders of various Countries and Periods, many of which have been exhibited at the Burlington Fine Arts Club Exhibition of Book-Bindings, and are chiefly in fine preservation, sold by Messrs. Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge, 21st of November, 1904, and two following days.

The books in this collection were bought and considered only as specimens of Bindings. Any defects that were noticed when compiling the Catalogue have been mentioned, but every lot will be sold with all faults and errors of description. and not subject to return for any reason.

This sale is appended to "Book-Auction Records," not because the books necessarily possess any bibliographical value, but as a record of a collection of bindings of exceptional interest and value. All are octavo et infra, unless otherwise described. A few lots which did not realise £1 are omitted. The following is the Auctioneers' preface:—

PREFACE

The Books in the accompanying Catalogue form the concluding portion of the Library of the late Professor W. H. Corfield, M.D., the other part having been sold in these rooms last June.

This collection consists entirely of books in bindings, every one of which has been selected as exemplifying in some way or another the art, workmanship, or development of Bookbinding. It would be very difficult now to get together another collection equally comprehensive and representative of the Bookbinder's Art in different centuries and various countries. Dr. Corfield was keenly interested in the subject, and to secure a desirable specimen he overlooked, in a few cases, the fact that the book contained in the covers was imperfect; all known faults have, however, been mentioned in the catalogue descriptions.

A considerable number of these books were selected for exhibition at the Burlington Fine Arts Club, and many were reproduced in colours in their catalogue. Most of the volumes are in cloth cases. The English portion is particularly fine, and it is questionable whether there is any other private collection in existence equal to it. The early London stamped-panel binders are represented by three different examples: by John Reynes, by the binders H.R., A.H., G.C., and the very rare M.D. There are two specimens of the Wotton binders, one each by Berthelet and Garret Godfrey of Cambridge, a magnificent piece of pierced Elizabethan vellum binding with the royal arms, and which is considered by many to be the finest of its kind in existence, and a very beautiful Carolean "Travelling Library," richly bound in inlaid leathers, enclosed in a box similarly tooled. The Stuart bindings are numerous and of unusual beauty; upwards of fifty specimens are found by the royal binders Samuel and Charles Mearne. Books from the royal libraries include specimens bound for Edward VI., James I., Charles II. and Queen Anne. Embroidered bindings, in coloured silk and silver thread, are represented by seventeen interesting and well preserved specimens. The later binders include specimens by Roger Payne, Kalthoeber, Edwards of Halifax, six examples of the "cottage-roof" patterns, and two books with paintings under the gilt on the fore-edges. French binding is represented by several early stamped panel bindings, including examples by Jean Noryns, I. S., &c.; Lyonese gilt and enamelled bindings include about twenty fine examples: the celebrated binders Clovis and Nicholas Eve, Le Gascon, Le Monnier, Deseuil, Derome, and the Grolier binder, all find their places in the library. The early panel bindings of the Low Countries and Germany are numerous and well selected; and the gilt tooled binding of these countries, and Italy and Spain, are all worthily represented, particularly those of Italy.

BIBLES, arranged as follows:—1, English. 2, Latin. 3, Spanish and Irish. 4, Bible Illustrations. Each section in chronological order.

Bible (The) that is the Holy Scriptures, trans. out of Douche and Latine (by M. Coverdale), b.l., cuts, russia gilt, g. e., fo. (w. a. f.) [Antwerp, Jacob van Meteren, 1535] Quaritch, £80 S. Mar. 25

* 1st Edn. of the Bible in English, excessively rare, no perfect copy known. This is the third of the Ashburnham copies, the title, preliminaries and last leaf of Revelation in facsimile, margins and several ll. mended and shaved, wants map, has all the minor titles and body of copy in sound condition. The translation "Bugges," and "Triacle" for "Terror" and "Balm" occur first in this edn.

Bible, conteyning the Olde and Newe Testament, trans. by R. Taverner, b.l., minor woodcut titles (backed) (wants first title, dedication to King and Exhortation, fo. 98-99 in N. T., and 2 ll. of table at end, 6 ll. badly damaged, some margins cut into and mended, but general body of book sound, w. a. f.), black mor., fo., 1539 Tregaskis, £5 15s S. Mar. 25

* Essentially a re-issue of Matthew's (Rogers's) Bible of 1537, with correction of the text and additional marginal notes. In the N. T. sheet ℞ (fo. 55-60) is wanting, as it is in all known copies.

Bible.—Cranmer's, or The Great Bible, 3 woodcut titles and woodcuts, b.l., old leather binding, on oak bds. (w. a. f.), fo. [E. Whitchurch, 1541] £3 10s H. Feb. 8

Bible, Coverdale's Version, woodcut, b.l. (some leaves at beginning and end in facsimile), thk. sm. 4to, old cf. (rebacked, w. a. f.) [Zurich], A. Hester, 1550 £10 H. Feb. 8

Bible.—The Byble, according to ye coppy of T. Matthews Translaciō, with prologes and annotations (by W. Tyndale), b.l., woodcuts, orig. cf., rebacked (repaired), clasps and bosses, fo. (w. a. f.), John Day, 1551 Blond, £19 S. Mar. 25

* Extremely rare. Matthews' Version (chiefly Taverner's), revised by Becke, with Tyndale's prologues to the N. T. The third book of Maccabees first appeared in this edn., the leaf containing the arms of Edward VI. is at the end. Mr. Roberts has the following note on fly-leaf. "Since I bought it a duplicate of the first leaf of Genesis has been added, containing the corrected reading, Adam, so it has both leaves, the 'Woman' and 'Adam.'" Probably this copy is unique. The first title and two or three other leaves are repaired.

Bible, Cranmer's Version, b.l., sm. 4to, cf. (w. a. f.), J. Cawood, 1569 £1 1s H. Feb. 8

Bible (The Holy), set forth by Aucthoritie, b.l., maps, woodcuts, &c., first title facsimile, wants 2 preliminary ll. (some ll. mended), plate of Tabernacle backed, map of Canaan backed), mor. ex., joints, g. e. by W. Pratt, fo., R. Jugge, 1574 Tregaskis, £8 10s S. Mar. 25

* The Bishop's Bible, revised under Archbp. Parker. This copy contains the map of Canaan, dated 1574, reproduced from the original block used for Coverdale's 1535 edition. Mr. R. Roberts, in a note, says, "This is the only copy containing the map which I ever knew to be for sale, though I have been collecting more than thirty years."

Bible, trans. according to the Ebrue and Greke (no title to Old Testament, but has title to New Testament), rubricated, woodcuts, old cf. (rebacked vell.), sm. fo., C. Barker, 1577 Lulforth, £1 3s S. Mar. 14

* First edition of the "Breeches" Bible printed in London, copied from the first Geneva edition of 1560.

Bible and Holy Scriptures . . . trans. acccording to the Ebreue and Greke, Genevan or Breeches version (with calendar), maps, &c., first title and 2 last ll. of second table in facsimile, margins cut and some mended, otherwise good state, mor., w. a. f., fo., Edinb., 1579 [N. T., Thos. Bassandyne, 1576] Tregaskis, £8 S. Mar. 27

—— Comedies, Histories and Tragedies, second impression, port. by Droeshout, with verses opposite, latter slightly mended, corner of title mended, injuring half an S, and last leaf mended, otherwise perfect and a genuine sound and large copy, 13¼ by 8¾ in., mor. ex., g. e. by Clarke and Bedford, fo., 1632 Ellis, £108 S. Mar. 25

—— The same, 3rd Edn., port. cut and mounted, last leaf missing, several leaves water-stained, with an extra leaf of Jonson's verses, old cf., fo., Printed for P. C., 1664 Quaritch, £151
* Sold by Messrs. Drew and Son, Bangor, Feb. 14, 1905.

—— The same, 4th Edn., port. with verses beneath (text slightly defective at sig. Q. q. 2 and A. a. a. a. 3), old russ., binding broken, fo., 1685 Maggs, £67 S. Feb. 16

—— The same, 4th Edn., port. by Droeshout, with verses beneath (corner mended, forehead slightly rubbed), sound and perfect copy, genuine throughout, red mor. ex., g. e. by W. Pratt, fo., 1685 Ellis, £47 S. Mar. 25

—— Works, with Life by Rowe, 6 v., old cf. gt., 1709 Haighe, £9 S. Feb. 23
* The first illustrated Edn. The Stratford bust was first engd. for this Edn. In his Ills. of Shakespeare, Douce points out its exceeding value, because no other contemporary engs. show the traditional costumes worn by 17th century actors in Shakespeare's plays. (The 7th v. was absent from this copy.—Ed.)

—— The same, and Poems, plts., 7 v., old cf., 3 covers missing, 1709-10 Jaggard, £10 10s S. Feb. 23

* One of 12 copies printed on L. P. Garrick's sold for £25 4s.

—— Supplement to the Edn. of Shakespeare's Plays, published in 1778, by Johnson and Steevens, in 2 v., old russ., 1780 Marshall, £91 S. Mar. 24
* This belonged to Malone, and 64 of the pages contain amplifications or corrections in his autograph. It was in these volumes that Malone recorded the result of his collation of the correct text of Venus and Adonis with the faulty text which had hitherto been accepted. At the end of Venus and Adonis Malone has written "39 emendations obtained from the collation of the copy of 1596." (In 1780 he stated that he knew of no earlier Edn. than that of 1600.) Malone's other notes deal with the Rape of Lucrece, the Sonnets, the Passionate Pilgrim, Lord Essex, Lord Leicester, &c. In addition to Malone's manuscript emendations these volumes contain two ports. of Lord Southampton (engd.), the orig. miniature port. of Lord Southampton, painted for Malone by S. Harding, two notes in Steevens' autograph, relative to the authorship of Pericles, and suggesting that W. S. might indicate William Sly; autograph letter from Steevens to Malone in reference to Mrs. Siddons' acting, and the attack on him (G. S.), attributed either to Johnson or to Malone himself; a series of very old engs. to illustrate the Poems and doubtful Plays of Shakespeare; West's original receipt (Feb. 7, 1788) for £300 in payment of his pictures of King Lear and Hamlet.

* 1st Edn., believed to be unique, formerly Mr. J. Crossley's, with his MS. note on fly-leaf. "Only 3 copies of it are now (Apl. 1850) known, and 2 of these are imperfect. The present copy differs from the other known copies, in having a blank page on the other side of the last page of the dedication. The other copies have an advertisement, beginning 'The Division and Summing of the Chapters, &c.' This is the first form in which the edition appeared." A duplicate of the last page of dedication, with the above advertisement, has been added, making this copy unique.

* There is a slight repair to the blank portion of title, but of little importance. Mr. Huth's copy is imperfect, having the leaf A III in facsimile.

* The notes are chiefly critical, though a few are in the nature of errata. The note on "Endymion," covers a whole page, and the following criticism is written at the end of "Hyperion":—"This wonderful poem (distinctly the crown of Keats's genius, without which he would be far less kingly), if less intuitive than Shelley's work, is more individual. It is also more characteristically English, having much in common with the Elizabethans and with Milton, yet moving absolutely in a sphere of its own. One hardly sees one's way to any gain for it in completion." There is a long note on the reverse of the last leaf with reference to the legend which Keats intended to develope in "The Eve of St. Mark."

Thackeray.—Notes of a Journey from Cornhill to Grand Cairo, 1st Edn., cold. front. and woodcuts, with pen and ink sketch by Thackeray pasted on the inside front cover, orig. cl., uncut, 1846 £17 10s H. May 10

* The sketch represents a man smoking, below the words, "The New Chibouque." A note on the margin says, "This drawing was made by Mr. Thackeray on board the Lady Mary Wood, and given to my father Capt. Lewis, S.L." The book was dedicated to Capt. Lewis, and the third chapter gives an account of the company on board this vessel, in which Thackeray sailed in 1844.

America.—Account of the European Settlements in America, 2 v., 2nd Edn., maps, 1758-7 Andrews, 16s S. July 20

—— Charter of Boston granted in King Henry the Eighth's Reign, MS. on paper, 20 leaves, of which 2 are blank, unbnd., sm. fo., Sæc. XVII. —[Belknap (Jeremy)] The Foresters, an American Tale, being a Sequel to the History of John Bull the Clothier, front., orig. bds., uncut, Boston [Mass.], 1792, fo. Brentano's, £21 S. July 29

* Showing how a transcript of the Charter of Boston in Lincolnshire was employed by the early settlers when founding Boston in Massachusetts. The MS., of the time of Charles I., contains copies and analysis of grants made by Henry VIII. to the town of Boston. From its being found recently at Hingham in Norfolk, the prototype of the American Hingham (Mass.), and by reason of its being endorsed, "Massachusetts, one of America States the capitol," there is little doubt that the collation was made for use in America as a guide to the founders of the new Boston in framing the constitution of the city. Another point showing that this was so is that the copy of Belknap's "The Forester," the first American novel by an American writer, was bought at Hingham with the charter. On the upper cover of the book is written "Andrews of Hingham in America . . . . . this family emigrated to Massachusetts or New England, and near Boston founded or helped to found Hingham in North America in about 1636." The copy was evidently brought over to Hingham in Norfolk by one of Andrew's descendants. Both the MS. and the printed book are here offered in one lot.

July 5

* The 1st Edn. of any portion of the Old Testament in the English Language. A fine tall copy, some old scribbling on the title-page, a few passages underlined, and a few pages having neat, contemporary MS. notes, top margins towards end slightly damaged by damp, in consequence of which some chapter-headings and numbering of folios are defective, and a few letters or words on the last three leaves are missing, a few slight wormholes, the rest of the vol as clean and as fresh as the day it left the press; measures 6 by 3¾ in., being ¼ in. taller than the Grenville copy in the British Museum, which has hitherto been considered the only perfect one in existence. The only copy of this edition sold during recent years was the Crawford one, which realised £255 in 1887; it was made up, and wanting title and Prologue to Genesis.

—— [The Bible, that is the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments, faythfully and truly trans. out of Douche and Latine into Englishe] (the Coverdale Bible), b.l., 4to, vell., w. a. f. (Prynted in the Yeare of our Lorde, 1535 [Antwerp, Jacob van Meteren])

—— Bible, bound in contemporary ivory satin, embroidered in very high relief, in various colours and silver wire. One side represents David playing the Harp, the other a female figure standing by the side of a stream with a building labelled "Sion" in the background. Both figures are in Costumes of the period, and surrounded by Birds, Insects, &c. The back is in compartments, with a building in the upper section, and a Squirrel, Parrot, &c., in the lower one. The edges painted with a floral design containing the date 1679 (?), and the name of "Susanna Hudson" in a heart-shaped ornament (no details of edn. given), 1657 Pickering, £15 P. July 26

* A characteristic example of English 17th Century binding of this class, in unusually fine condition.

Caxton.—Caton; "Here begynneth the Prologue or Proheyme of the book called Caton / whiche booke hath ben translated in to Englysshe by Mayster Benet Burghe / late Archedeken of Colchestre and Hye Chanon of St. Stephens at Westmestre / which ful craftly hath made it in Balade Ryal for the Erudicion of my Lord Bousher / sone and hyr at that tyme to my Lord the Erle of Essex / and by cause of late cam to my hand a book of the said Caton in Frensshe / whiche reherceth many a fayr lernynge and notable ensamples / I have translated it oute of Frensshe in to Englysshe / as al along here after shalle appiere / which I presente unto the Cyte of London." [Colophon:] Here fynyssheth this present book which is sayd or called Cathon, translated oute of Frensshe in to Englysshe by William Caxton in thabbay of Westmynstre the yere of oure Lord MCCCCLXXXIII / and the fyrst yere of the regne of kynge Rychard the thyrd the XXIII. day of decembre. ℣. I. (Blades's type, No. 4*, with Latin headings in No. 2 type), long lines, 38 to a full page, containing 76 printed leaves, and 1 blank page, ¶ 10, at end; the 3 other blank pages being wanting, a few very neat contemporary MS. notes, small hole in plain margin of ¶j, some top margins slightly damaged by worms, and a few single worm-holes in some lower margins, in no cases touching the text; with the exception of a few slight and unimportant water-stains on a few outer margins, a marvellously clean copy, many pages being as fresh as the day the book was issued from the press, fo., very fine orig. cf. binding of about 1540, with ornamental roll on sides, and large diamond-shaped panel in centre, composed of classical ornaments and dragons within 5 blind lines, top and bottom panels of the back having crossed lines in blind, in very fine state of preservation Quaritch, £1350 C. July 5

* The above measures 10, 15/16 by 7¾ in., and is probably the largest, and one of the finest copies of the Caton in existence. Blades enumerates 8 perfect copies, of which the 2 largest, Devonshire and Lenox, measure 10⅛ by 7⅞ and 10⅛ by 7¼ in. respectively. No perfect copy has been offered at auction for many years, though very imperfect ones realised £295 in 1897, and £360 in 1899. The binding is particularly interesting, and was probably executed at Oxford, though the roll is not figured in Mr. Strickland Gibson's Monograph on the Oxford binders. The four blank end-papers and linings inserted by the binder are intact, though the former have become detached from the covers. The paper is thinner than the body of the book, and carries two variations of a water-mark, representing a hand with a five-pointed star. Some MS. notes, in a hand contemporary with the binding, indicate the original owners of the volume.

SHAKESPEARE.—Arranged as in part 1—see PAGE 128.

Shakespeare.—Hamlet, Prince of Denmark, a Tragedy, Acting Edn., with accurate stage directions, hf. cf., with W. H. W. Betty on sides, 1839 Pearson, £8 5s S. July 1

* William Henry West Betty's ("The Young Roscius"), acting copy, underlined, also MS. additions, and numerous marks of reference, with additions and deletions. At commencement of each act Betty's name appears in ink.

—— The first part of the Troublesome Raigne of King John of England, &c. . . . written by W. Shakespeare, stained and title defective, hf. bnd., 4to, A. Mathewes for T. Dewe, 1622 Sotheran, £79 S. July 20

—— The True Chronicle History of King Leir and his three Daughters, Gonerill, Ragan, and Cordelia, as it hath bene divers and sundry times lately acted, contains 36 ll., signatures H-I in 4's (title in facsimile, margins of next 4 ll. slightly repaired, signatures in H and I slightly cut into, otherwise sound), light blue mor., lined tooled, by W. Pratt, sm. 4to, printed for Simon Stafford for John Wright, and are to bee sold at his shop at Christes Church dore, next Newgate-Market, 1605

A. Jackson, £480 S. July

* The oldest known edn. of this interesting Play, though it was acted at the Rose Theatre in 1593. As the precursor of Shakespeare's Tragedy on the same subject, and a play which he must have known and used, its great value is obvious.

Shakespeare.—Macbeth, a Tragedy, all the Alterations, Amendments, Additions, and New Songs [by Sir W. Davenant], hf. bnd., 4to, 1687
Sotheran, £5 5s S. July 20

—— The Tragedie of King Richard the Third, containing his treacherous Plot against his brother Clarence, the Pitiful Murther of his Innocent Nephewes, his Tyrannical Usurpation, with the whole course of his detested life, and most deserved death, as it hath bin lately acted by the Right Honourable the Lord Chamberlaine, his servants, newly augmented by Wm. Shake-Speare (the headlines of several ll. including the "The" of title are cut off, and half the top right-hand corners are scorched round, and some ll. are stained), but the Play is complete as regards the number of ll. (46), and is genuine and sound throughout, in 18th century bds., sm. 4to, printed by Thomas Creede, and are to be sold by Mathew Lawe, dwelling in Paules Church Yard at the Signe of the Foxe, neare S. Austins Gate, 1605 A. Jackson, £1750 S. July 12

* The fourth quarto of this celebrated play, of which it is believed this makes only the third copy known. In five places is found a contemporary autograph of "Wm. Penn," which is probably that of the celebrated Admiral, the Father of the Founder of Pennsylvania.

—— The Tempest, or the Enchanted Island, a Comedy [by John Dryden and Sir W. Davenant], a leaf slightly defective, hf. mor., 4to, 1695
Sotheran, £3 S. July 20

—— Titus Andronicus, or the Rape of Lavinia, a Tragedy, alter'd, Works, by Edw. Ravenscroft, title defective, shaved, w. a. f., 4to, 1687
Sotheran, £1 16s S. July 20

The Property of George Carrington, Esq.

GREAT MISSENDEN.

—— The most excellent Historie of the Merchant of Venice, with the extreame Cruelty of Shylocke the Jew, towards the said Merchant in cutting a just pound of his flesh, and the obtaining of Portia by the choyce of three Chests, minute hole on title-page, grey bds., fine copy, with uncut leaves, 4to, printed for William Leake, 1652
A. Jackson, £200 S. July 29

—— The Tragedie of King Richard the Second, as it hath been sundry times publikely acted by the Lord Chamberline, his servant, written by W. Shakespear, title in manuscript, and wants signature A 4, some headlines shaved, grey bds., 4to, printed for Thomas Fisher, 1605
A. Jackson, £250 S. July 29

* This imprint is not recorded by Lowndes, the B.M. Catalogue, or J. O. Halliwell's Hand-List.

—— Historie of Henry the Fourth, with the Battell at Shrewsburie, betweene the King and Lord Henry Percy, surnamed Henry Hotspur of the North, with the numerous conceites of Sir John Falstaffe, newly corrected by W. Shakespeare, some headlines shaved, and the corners of three leaves frayed, and slightly defective, grey bds., 4to, printed for Mathew Law, 1608 A. Jackson, £1000 S. July 29

—— The second part of the History of King Henry the Fourth, continuing to his Death and Coronation of Henry the Fift, title in manuscript, grey bds., 4to, printed for Mathew Law, 1605 A. Jackson, £500 S. July 29

* With the autograph of William Penn on D 2. It also contains the original four-leaved sheet E. According to J. O. Halliwell's collation, this is the edn. of 1600. Top corner of one leaf very slightly defective, some headlines shaved.

Shakespeare.—M. William Shakespeare His True Chronicle History of the Life and Death of King Lear, with the unfortunate Life of Edgar, sonne and heire to the Earle of Glocester, and his sullen and assumed humour of Tom of Bedlam, hf. mor., 4to, printed for Nathaniel Butter, 1608
Stephens, £900 S. July 29

* This is given as the second edition in Mr. J. O. Halliwell's List. A sound copy with good margins; inlaid throughout, probably for George Steevens, as it bears his autograph signature on the title-page. The following letter appeared in the Daily Chronicle, August 1, 1905:—'Will you kindly allow me to state in your columns that I am not the Mr. Stephens referred to in the Press as purchasing the "Life and Death of King Lear" quarto, for £900, though I made bids indirectly for the whole five quartos? None of these, I may say, were in the first edition, and all of them, save one, were in a very unsatisfactory condition. The "Henry IV." quarto was cut down to 6¼ in. by 4¼ in., whilst some of the headlines were shaved. A really first class and good example of a rare Shakespeare quarto would be worth over £10,000.'—WALTER STEPHENS.

—— Comedies, Histories, and Tragedies, 2nd Folio Edn., wants title and verses and last leaf, several ll. torn and soiled, all preliminary ll. good except the last, which is torn, for the rest genuine and sound throughout, but sold w. a. f. (size 12¼ by 8½ in.), orig. cf., fo., 1632 Ingram, £16 S. July 29

—— Comedies, Histories, and Tragedies, the second impression (size 12 in. by 8¼ in.), wants title, Ben. Jonson's verses, blank corner off first two leaves, first portion water-stained, otherwise sound copy (w. a. f.), old hf. binding, fo., 1632 Tregaskis, £11 15s S. July 20

—— Comedies, Histories, and Tragedies, second impression, orig. cf. (broken), measures 12 by 8⅝ in., wants title and port. from the leaf of verses (w. a. f.), 1632 Ellis, £21 S. July 29

—— Comedies, Histories, and Tragedies, 4th Edn., wants title, port. and verses, many leaves imperfected through damp (w. a. f.), fo., 1685
Sabin, £3 10s S. July 12

—— Comedies, Histories, and Tragedies, 4th Edn., fine impression of the port. by Droeshout, with Ben Jonson's verses beneath, fine sound copy, but two or three ll. remargined, eleven ll. have very slight defects, top right-hand corner of Xx 6 torn off, injuring the pagination, but genuine throughout, in the orig. cf., fo., 1685 Sotheran, £110 S. July 29

* Unusually large, measuring 14¼ in. by 9¼ in. being more than ¼ in. taller and ¼ in. broader than Mr. Halliwell-Phillipps' copy, which was described as being larger than the famous Britwell copy (the largest known to Lowndes); thus the present copy is probably the tallest in existence.

Shakespeare.—Catalogue of Shakespearean interest. "Courteous Reader, these Books following are printed for Humphrey Moseley, and are to be sold at his Shop at the Prince's Armes in St. Paule's Churchyard," 1654 Pearson, £6 10s S. July 1

* Comprises 16 pp. It contains the advertisement announcing Poems written by Mr. William Shakespeare Gent. This entry is most important. There is no account of any edition of Shakespeare's Poems printed for Humphrey Moseley given by any bibliographer. Other entries are: Beaumont and Fletcher's Comedies and Tragedies, among which may be noted The Elder Brother and The Two Noble Kinsmen (thought by some to be Shakespeare's), Davenant's Plays, several by Chapman, Shirley, &c.

Book-Auction Records

(FORMERLY KNOWN AS 'SALE RECORDS')

VOL. 2—PART 1

OCT. to DEC., 1904

Including the GREAT LATIN PSALTER, the BURNS and SHAKESPEARE BIBLES, and the CORFIELD COLLECTION OF BINDINGS

(Part 2 will be issued on May 1st; Part 3 on August 1st; and Part 4, with a carefully-compiled Index, on October 1st, 1905.)

'The English book-sales are given in J. H. Slater's Book Prices Current. There are also two special English publications which report sales at intervals. Sale Records is one, and it promises to be superior to Slater's book.'—New York Times.

The Guild of Women-Binders

THE Guild of Women-Binders was established in 1898 as the outcome of an Exhibition of Bookbindings by Women which was held at 61 Charing Cross Road, in December, 1897. The immediate result of the formation of the Guild was of a highly-promising nature. His Majesty the King personally visited the first Exhibition, and has ever since annually made purchases from the Guild for Christmas Presents. The Princess of Wales has also patronised the Guild by ordering the historic album which H.R.H. took upon the tour to Australia, Canada, and South Africa in the spring of 1901. The Guild is constantly in receipt of orders to supply presentation volumes to the monarchs, royalties, and celebrities of the United Kingdom and Europe. Among these may be mentioned volumes for presentation to King Edward VII., to Queen Alexandra, H.R.H. Princess Christian, the King of Spain, the German Emperor, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connaught, Lord Roberts, Lord Wolseley, Sir George White, the Duke of Cambridge, Lord Milner, the Grand Duke of Baden, the Prince of Monenegro, Viscount Peel, &c., &c. There is, in fact, convincing proof that the original, individual, and conscientious methods of the Guild of Women-Binders are highly appreciated by the discerning members of the book-loving public. The following extracts from letters received are examples of the whole:—

(1) June 30, 1904. The book arrived this morning, and gives great satisfaction. I hope the Guild will continue its excellent work.
(2) July 7, 1904. Lady D. is much pleased with the three volumes.
(3) Feb. 4, 1905. The book gives me perfect satisfaction. I am very pleased I sent it to the Bindery to be done. It is an admirable specimen of good genuine work.

Booksellers are invited to send a book to be bound in undressed morocco (8s. 6d.), and they will want more than one. It is a very distinguished class of binding, and far more durable than any of the dyed morocco.

RECENT BOOKSELLERS' CATALOGUES

(ARRANGED ALPHABETICALLY)

Edward Baker, 14 and 16 John Bright St., Birmingham.—Catalogue of English Topography, History, Geography, and Travels, 1074 lots, crowded with interesting items, some of which are very scarce by reason of their original magnificence. Also Catalogue No. 221; entitled, "The Country Gentleman's, Sportsman's and Naturalist's Handbook." It contains 730 lots, many at very moderate prices, including such rarities as Annals of Sporting, Egan's Boxiana and Sporting Anecdotes, Life of Mytton, Hunting Reminiscences, Real Life in London, the Sporting Novels, &c. The catalogues, in fact, fully justify the sub-title.

Day's Library, Ltd., 96 Mount St., Grosvenor Square, London.—Monthly Clearance Lists of Surplus Books; Travel, Sport, Biography, &c. In these catalogues books of more than evanescent interest are often found. Day's List for July contains Hindley's Old Book Collector's Miscellany, and Oscar Wilde's De Profundis, First Edition.

Deighton, Bell & Co., 13 Trinity St., Cambridge.—A well-printed catalogue on excellent paper. Contents: general second-hand modern publications, including many choice editions, such as the Kelmscott (the rare Title Pages of Printers, on vellum, &c.); Cole's Old English Masters, proofs; Franken's William and James Morris; Edward VIIth Prayer Book, (Guild of Handicraft); and Pickthorn's Pamphlet on Paradisus Terrestris. Also, 12 pages of Oriental, Classical, Mediæval and Modern Philology.

P. K. Foley, 14 Beacon St., Boston, Mass., U.S.A.—Two important catalogues of First and Notable Editions of American and English Authors and Choice and Rare Americana; one having a highly artistic cover. Contents: First Editions of Browning, Carlyle, Bret Harte, Lowell, Meredith, Stevenson, Swinburne, Tennyson, Walt Whitman, Oscar Wilde, &c., also Franklin's edition of Cicero's Cato Major, and Charles Lamb's 'Othello,' the only known copy of the first issue, with a note of great bibliographical interest, 1,000 lots; and a unique copy of the London Magazine, vol. 3 to 10, in which Lamb's Essays first appeared. My subscribers should send their catalogues to Mr. Foley.

Sydney V. Galloway, University and General Bookseller, Aberystwyth.—Catalogue of Second-hand Books, (600 lots), mostly modern, with a few examples of Early Poetry, and some Americana.

Goad's Old Book Stores, Bath St., Bath.—General Second-hand Catalogue, (643 lots), including extensive items under the headings of Africa, America, China, Gardening, India, and Military; with a plate of the famous Pump Room (immortalised by Beau Nash, and Dickens) on the cover. Mr. Goad has only just opened; his methods are essentially up-to-date, (see the headlines of the catalogues), and one can prophesy that he will take up a leading position among provincial booksellers. Says a phrase in I am in business to please you, and I am on Jupiter every Man your customer-Sec. "condone the spot." Mr. Goad specialises on India and the East generally, and desires to open up business relations with houses throughout the States, Indies, the Colonies, &c.

J. T. Goldie, 57 Cliff Rd., Leeds.—Removal Sale Book Bargains. General Catalogues, including books on Economics, First Editions, books with Autograph Letters inserted, Choice Bindings, Sports, Americana, &c., at low prices, previous to removal.

H. G. Haynes, 42 John Bright St., Birmingham.—A Short List of Interesting Books, including an extra-illustrated copy of Dr. "Beauties of England and Wales," with nearly 1,000 plates.

Holland Bros., 21 John Bright St., Birmingham.—Catalogue No. 113, 300 lots, including Weatherby's Stud Book, complete set, 10 v., £8 18s.; Annals of Sporting, 15 v., two sets, £12 18s., justly described as "a bargain"; and the rare Life of a Sportsman, 1842, £1 8s.

J. Jacob, 140 Edgware Rd., London, W.—New Series, No. 2. Good General Catalogue, 862 lots, including a choice series of 500 hand-coloured plates in Barrow's History of Birds, £15 15s. All items guaranteed clean and perfect.

G. T. Juckes & Co., 85 Aston St., Birmingham.—Catalogue of Illustrated and Valuable Books from the Libraries of Rev. S. W. Tebb and T. S. Stock, Esq., J.P.; 450 lots, including the rare Life of John Mytton, 1837, fine uncut copy, £7 10s., and therefore cheap. Also, another Catalogue, (452 lots), including Ackermann's Microcosm of London, a very fine copy; also superb Contes et Nouvelles of La Fontaine, 2 v., 4to, 1762; the French edition of Paradise Lost, coloured plates, Paris, 1792; Houbraken's Portraits, 1747, &c.

A. W. Macphail, 6 St. Giles St., Edinburgh.—Catalogue No. 80, contains 550 lots, including many old Scotch works, and [illegible] also Phillip's original water-colour sketch for 'La Gloria,' the picture for which the Edinburgh National Gallery gave £5,000.

Joseph Milligan, Welton Mount, Leeds.—Catalogue of Rare Editions, First Editions, County Histories, &c. A very interesting catalogue, including a MS. vol. of Scotch Dances, 1740, which ought to be secured for a Scotch library. Also fine books, such as 'Martial and Naval Achievements,' and many editions of the 16th, 17th, and 18th centuries, including the 'History of the Five Indian Nations of Canada,' 1755, and at quite reasonable prices.

F. M. Morris, 171 Madison St., Chicago.—'A Catalogue of Some Good Books,' (No. 45), including Americana, Rebellion, Genealogy, Witchcraft, &c. As Mr. Morris visits England annually, booksellers should get in communication with him. He buys on an extensive scale, and is very enterprising. I know, for he visited me at Hampstead this summer.

Parker & Son, 27 Broad St., Oxford.—Catalogue (918 lots) of Miscellaneous Books, including Antiquities, Old Atlases, Law, Oriental (& Hindoo MS., &c.), Science, &c., many from the Library of Dr. Fowler, President of Corpus Christi College. Also a special Catalogue of books dealing with Philosophy. The comprehensive character of the firm's business is shown by their monthly issue of lists of new English, French, German, and Italian books. Foreign visitors will find a London office at 31 Bedford St., Strand.

Ludwig Rosenthal, Hildegardestrasse 16, Munich, sends me Catalogue No. 111, containing 2,012 books of the highest interest to the bibliophile, the bibliographer, the scholar, and the public librarian, with notes in English, French, and German. It contains a number of reproductions of early wood blocks, title-pages, and bindings, and a key to the abbreviations, and, also, a notice that Mr. Rosenthal possesses a precious manuscript on the discoveries of Vespucci, of which particulars can be had on application. Vespucci's letter (Mundus Novus, &c. 1505, price £500), is one of the more important items, only one or two copies of it being known to exist. In reading such a catalogue one is struck by the high degree of intelligence and education forming part of the equipment of the continental bookseller. One trifling example illustrates a note of my own in B. A. R., viz., Mr. Rosenthal catalogues two books, the titles of which refer to St. Petersburg, under their proper heading of Petersburg.

The Shepard Book Company send a catalogue all the way from Salt Lake City, containing about 1,700 lots of Americana, Rare Books, Occult, Mormonism, First Editions, &c. Their 'sign' is a quotation from William Morris, with a woodblock.

Albert Sutton, 43 Bridge St., Manchester.—Catalogue of Books (and Engravings) relating to Shakespeare and the Drama, (775 lots), with Engravings. Includes some old quartos and first editions as well as modern works. A very attractive catalogue for the dramatic student, and in a striking cover. A good cover is as important as an introduction, as a pretty face or a good manner.

 As the preliminary issues of 'B.A.R.' are in press a month in advance of the Records, catalogues arriving within a month of publication are necessarily left over till the next Part. If, therefore, early notice is desired, catalogues must reach me BEFORE THE LAST DAY OF EACH QUARTER, or one of the proof advertisements will do just as well.

Remember:—'B.A.R.' circulates throughout the World

JOHN MILTON'S MINOR POEMS

Facsimile of the MS. in the Library of Trinity College, Cambridge, with Prefatory Notes by W. Aldis Wright, M.A. Folio, half roxburghe, £2 2s. net; or unbound in case, £1 11s. 6d. net.

 The volume consists of 47 written pages, of which 40 are in Milton's autograph. The facsimiles are collotypes from photographs by Mr. A. G. Dew-Smith. Only few copies remain for sale.

MACMILLAN & BOWES, CAMBRIDGE.

KARSLAKE & CO.'S CATALOGUES, in print, are as follows:—

1. Catalogue of 100 Choice Extra-Illustrated Books, from £3 to £100, including Life of Napoleon, 8 vols, folio; Life of Cruikshank, 4 vols, folio; Life of Leech, 2 vols, 8vo; History of Punch, 2 vols, 8vo; &c., &c. Crowded with autograph letters, fine coloured prints, &c.

2. Catalogue of Views of Old London; 300 Scarce Coloured Engravings of the Palaces, Public Buildings, Churches, and Antiquities of London and its Environs.

RECENT BOOKSELLERS' CATALOGUES

(ARRANGED ALPHABETICALLY)

Edward Baker, 14-16 John Bright St., Birmingham.—Catalogue No. [illegible] (1000 lots), of Works on Art, Biography, Drama and Poetry, Fiction, History, Topography, Natural History, Sport, and Rare and First Editions; also a separate List of books by Oscar Wilde. Mr. Baker states that it is reported that Oscar Wilde is still alive, and was recently seen in an American book shop. The catalogue includes a copy of Longfellow's Golden Legend, presented by Mrs. Browning in [illegible], and other presentation books.

Holland Bros., 21 John Bright St., Birmingham.—Catalogue No. 114, including many handsome and valuable volumes from the libraries of [illegible], Esq., of Kidderminster, and John Morgan, Esq., of Tonbridge; the Kelmscott Press [illegible]; a fine set of Costume books; Radcliffe's Noble Science; [illegible] of Albion, 1613, &c.

G. T. Juckes & Co., 85 Aston St., Birmingham.—Catalogue of an Interesting and Choice Selection of Books, (480 lots), including a copy of the Gospels from the palace of the Czar Nicholas I., an Album of Rare Coloured Portraits; [illegible], 1674; Tragicum Theatrum, 1649, &c. Also a List of Cheap Books, in [illegible].

Alex. W. Macphail, 6 St. Giles St., Edinburgh.—Catalogue No. 41. "[illegible] in Scottish and other Literature. Inside this Catalogue will be found the [illegible] for Collectors of all Tastes, Curious, Rare, and Old Books, and Pamphlets at Moderate Prices." Mr. Macphail wisely whets the collectors' appetite with his title and appeases it with his fare. The Piano Instructions in Music, 1693, (for which only [illegible] is asked) is not in the British Museum, and is unknown to bibliographers. As the author was apparently attached to Magdalen College, Oxford, the volume should be in the Bodleian Library.

James Miles, 32 Guildford St., Leeds.—Catalogue of Rare and Interesting Books, (949 lots), comprising 1. Books on Africa, America, Angling, Art, Coloured Illustrations, Cruikshank, Lancashire, Lake District, Occult, Sporting, &c. 2. Early English Literature, XVIth, XVIIth, and XVIIIth Centuries. 3. Scottish Literature. 4. Additions of Meteorology, Astronomy, &c. Each section alphabetically arranged. A very attractive catalogue, both for the general buyer and the [illegible]. Also, a Catalogue of Alpine and Mountaineering Literature; Woodcut Books of the "Sixties," and rarities, such as works of Charles I., 1662, in a splendid contemporary binding by Mearne; a very fine copy of the Nuremberg Chronicle, George Wither's Emblemes, 1635, &c. All books guaranteed to be in good condition and returnable if any undescribed defects, so collectors at a distance may order with confidence.

Frank Murray, Moray House, Derby.—Murray's Derby Book List, No. [illegible], [illegible] lots, besides Special Lists of Derbyshire books, and of Novels, first editions. Includes a complete set of the Eragny Press publications, [illegible] Press books, [illegible] House Press, &c., all guaranteed clean and perfect. Also, a Clearance List of Miscellaneous Books, at 1s. each, and of Bargains at higher prices.

Murray's Nottingham Book Company, 11 Victoria St., Nottingham.—Clearance List of Bargains, (723 lots), including books of importance, such as Thackeray's Vanity Fair, first edition; Baily's Magazine; Bacon's Advancement of Learning, [illegible]; Johnny Newcome in the Navy, 1818, &c.

Myers & Co., 59 High Holborn, London.—Hundredth Catalogue of [illegible] Books, (672 lots), including rare early maps of America; books on Art; fine Illustrated Works; Drama; Occult Subjects; Shakespeareana; Sporting, &c.; and also a few Choice Engravings, among them being Cruikshank's Worship of Bacchus, one of the 100 India Proofs signed by the artist. The [illegible], but, in Messrs. Myers' own interests, I may add that the tone is slightly [illegible] type on the [illegible] page to be easily deciphered.

Parker & Son, 27 Broad St., Oxford.—Catalogue of Theological Books, Ancient and Modern, (1838 lots), including Bibles in Hebrew, Greek, Latin, French, German, Italian, and English; Book of Common Prayer, first editions; Scottish and American Prayer Books, Liturgical Books, &c.; some Chromolithographs published by the Arundel Society. Messrs. Parker's is one of the most notable of English firms dealing in Theology. Their London place is at [illegible] St., Strand, W.C.

Ludwig Rosenthal, Hildegardstr. 16, Munich, issues a list of [illegible] (mostly early-printed books), which he will send to anyone on receipt of a postcard. It is a list worth having, to keep permanently for reference.

Books for Sale, by Kerslake & Co., 35 Pond St., Hampstead, London

DYER (T. F. Thiselton) GREAT MEN AT PLAY, 1889, 2 vols, 8vo, ENLARGED BY THE INSERTION OF THE FOLLOWING ITEMS :—

85 High-class portraits of Celebrities, including many scarce coloured impressions and India proofs.

71 Engravings of Views, etc., etc.

30 IMPORTANT AND VALUABLE AUTOGRAPH LETTERS, as follows :—John Wesley, Norwich, 1762, very fine, mentions T. Olivers, author of hymn "The God of Abraham Praise," etc.; John Liston (creator of "Paul Pry"), to T. H. Bayley, re a play, Madame Vestris, etc.; Samuel Rogers to Southey, says Byron is in embarrassed circumstances, mentions Lord Spencer, who formed the Althorp Library, now the Rylands Library; Isaac D'Israeli; Samuel Warren; Talleyrand; Lord Lytton; Charles Lever; Florence Marryat; Lord Palmerston; Lord Eldon; John Stuart Mill; G. A. Sala; Thos. Moore, 1835, re his Irish Melodies and the Irish Agitation; Dr. Burney (father of Madame d'Arblay); Ruskin; Telford, the engineer; De Quincey to the publisher of "Confessions of an Opium-Eater"; Chas. Babbage, re his famous Calculating Engine or Machine, which cost him £20,000, 1839; Sir Thos. Lawrence, P.R.A. (mentions Adelaide Kemble); Lady Blessington, Gore House, 1845; Count D'Orsay, 1849 (very interesting); Sir M. A. Shee, P.R.A.; Lord Stanhope, 1811 (re the right to religious liberty); Hannah More, to Fanny Holcroft, re her Tragedy; Chas. Churchill (mentions Lord Orford and the Duke of Portland); George Cruikshank; Lord Clarendon, 1857; Richard Cobden, 1859; T. Crofton Croker to Sir Frederick Madden; and Westland Marston, re Sterling Coyne, etc.; also 10 autographs of George IV.; Sir Robert Peel; Duke of York; Lord Derby (the Rupert of Debate); Mark Pattison; Wordsworth; Lord Ellenborough; Sir Charles Napier; Lord Selborne; and Leigh Hunt (envelope to Edmund Moxon). Bound in dark blue morocco extra, gilt edges. £20

It is only a justifiable curiosity which seeks to know more about great men when in their own homes. A suggestive idea of the kind in The Times prompted the present work, which, it is hoped, will make the public more thoroughly acquainted with those celebrated men whose tastes, habits, and other personal traits of character have never hitherto been systematically collected.

GRISWOLD (Hattie T.) HOME LIFE OF GREAT AUTHORS, Chicago, 1902, post 8vo, containing the following illustrative matter :—

15 Engravings of Views, etc.

91 Portraits of Celebrities, 10 of which are coloured.

11 Autograph Letters, viz. :—1, Mrs. WORDSWORTH, Dec. 1846, to Edward Moxon, her husband's publisher, acknowledging receipt of the Poet Laureate's salary, sends a book of verses to be forwarded to Queen Victoria, and which "Mr. W." says no one but Moxon is to see; says the children are ill at Rome, John's pictures just arrived from Rome; and concludes with 14 lines by Wordsworth (believed to be unpublished), on the death of their son at Rome in Dec. 1846. "Your being with us at the time of our sorrow will give you interest in them."—2, CHARLES MACKAY, poet, journalist, and song-writer—3, T. DE QUINCEY, 1822, to Mr. Hessey, of Taylor and Hessey, publishers of the first edition of his "Confessions of an English Opium-Eater," promising to write a preface to that work, dated from Kendal, Sept., 1822, a few weeks before publication. The letter is of interest as it proves that De Quincey had not intended writing a preface to his famous work, and he says, "I do not think you acted a friendly part in representing me as breaking an engagement," etc.—4, VICTOR HUGO, from St. Helier's, Jersey, to a literary friend and poet—5, ZACHARY MACAULAY, father of Lord Macaulay, 1792. "The Anti-Slavery Society will take 750 copies of the debate on Shrewsbury's motion."—6, LORD ABERDEEN, 1842—7, LORD LYTTON to Lady Shelley, c. 1860—8, JOHN FORSTER (biographer of Dickens), Aug. 7, 1867. Invitation to dinner to meet Mr. and Mrs. Macready on the eve of their sailing for a farewell tour to America. "It is a quiet meeting before that fateful visit to Yankee Land—the last."—9, DOUGLAS JERROLD to Benjamin Webster, actor, etc. (1857). "Do you see those asses in the Times. They talk about [illegible] dealing jealously with Nelson." (Mr. Delane, the celebrated editor), gets the date of production of Sheridan Knowles's "Love Chase," and says, "Pray outlive me to ensure much of my Comedy. Not of [illegible] Joseph Surface better have a large piece of the blanket!" also a scrap of paper bearing the handwriting of CHARLOTTE BRONTË, attested by her husband, Rev. A. B. Nicholls. Bound in 2 vols, post 8vo, brown morocco extra, gilt edges. £16 16s

The author devotes her work to the home life of authors because, though an interesting and instructive study, it seems commonly neglected in popular biographies.

FOR SALE, by KARSLAKE & CO., 35 Pond Street, Hampstead :—
